Weber's victory aided by Reagan

SMILING ELECTION WINNERS are Ronald Reagan (left) of California, now the president-elect of the United States, and Donald Weber, Collinsville attorney, who was elected Tuesday as this county's state attorney. The two Republicans both ran strongly in usually-Democratic Madison County.

Tuesday as this county's state attorney. The two Republicans both ran strongly in usually-Democratic Madison County.

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Possibly hanging on the coattails of Ronald Reagan, who defeated President Jimmy Carter in Madison County, as well as nationally, one of the county GOP candidates managed a narrow upset in balloting Tuesday as Don Weber of Collinsville defeated incumbent Democrat Nicholas G. Byron for Madison County state's attorney.

More than 102,102 county voters cast ballots Tuesday, which is likely to be a record. However, the judges in one Godfrey precinct looked their tally sheet in the ballot bag and it cannot be opened without a court order, so all of the county totals now listed are without that one precinct's results.

A major development in the local election was the ouster of two Circuit Judges by the voters. Judge Victor J. Mosele, the target of a $20,000 non-retention campaign by a group of attorneys, failed to garner the necessary 60 percent vote needed to be retained, gathering only 54.01 percent yes votes.

Circuit Judge John DeLaurenti of Bond County, also a target of the non-retention campaign, came very close to the needed 60 percent, as 59.26 percent of those who voted on the retention issue voted yes.

Democratic incumbent county officials who succeeded in their re-election bids were Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell of Edwardsville, County Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas of Maryville, Coroner Dallas Burke of Alton and County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields of Glen Carbon, a former Venice resident.

The three incumbent state representatives from the 56th Legislative District won re-election easily, but unknown Republican challenger Joseph Frano, 65, who did not even have the formal backing of the county's Republican party, managed to garner 22,373 votes, without extensive campaigning.

Re-elected as state representatives were Democrats Sam Wolf of Granite City and Jim McPike of Alton and Republican Everett Steele of Glen Carbon. They will serve two-year terms before the state is redistricted, in accordance with a constitutional amendment also approved by the voters Tuesday which will reduce the size of the House of Representatives from 177 members to 118 by creating 118 single-member districts.

Currently, this district is represented by Wolf, McPike and Steele and will continue to be for the next two years.

In Madison County, voters preferred the redistricting plan 34,743 to 21,305. Madison County voters, who are traditionally Democrats, for the most part, supported Reagan's presidential bid over Carter's, despite a personal appearance by Carter in Granite City Monday to appeal for support.

Reagan earned 50,739 votes county-wide to 43,404 for Carter. John Anderson was third with 4,161. Carter's speech probably helped him in Granite City, however, as he did win the city vote. A chart showing the city's vote breakdown, by precinct, for each candidate appears elsewhere in today's Press-Record.

In the tight state's attorney's race, with the one Godfrey precinct still to be counted, Republican Don Weber has tallied 47,703 to 47,325 for the incumbent Democratic State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron, who was Weber's former boss when Weber was an assistant state's attorney.

Since most Godfrey precincts have shown a preference for Republican Weber, it is believed the opening of the locked bag from the uncounted precinct will add to Weber's lead, rather than change the outcome of the race.

Madison Countyans also showed a preference for the successful Democratic nominee for U.S. senator, Secretary of State Alan J. Exon, who outpolled Lt. Gov. Dave O'Neal in the county 55,564 to 41,408.

The vote tallies in the state representative race appear elsewhere in today's issue, as do the tallies for

Sludge stockpiled again as landfill blocks city's trucks

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Sludge again is a problem in Granite City. Mayor Paul Schuler reported at last night's City Council meeting. Waste from the municipal sewage treatment plant is being piled up behind the plant.

Milam East, operator of the Mal Landfill, barred sludge trucks as of Monday, Nov. 3, contending that the sludge is "hazardous waste that does not conform to Environmental Protection Agency guidelines," the mayor said.

"We notified Milam East they are not correct, and we are awaiting their decision. Definitive action will be taken."

In other business during a busy 2½-hour session, the City Council:

—Approved a memorandum of intent to issue another $5 million in industrial revenue bonds to finance a continuous pickling operation at the Michigan Metals plant here.

—Heard a delegation of opponents and then deferred final action on an ordinance that would have banned any additional mobile homes outside of mobile home parks.

—Voted to urge the Madison County Board to take steps necessary to avoid curtailment of bus service.

—And approved street employee and secretarial raises of eight percent effective in May 1980, nine percent in May 1981, three percent in November 1981 and one percent in March 1982.

The council voted Sept. 23 to purchase three sludge-hauling trailers for $88,000 and a giant diesel tractor for $44,615 to provide enough capacity for daytime hauling from the treatment plant to the landfill.

Milam East had been charging the city $5,000 a month for those months when the landfill was used beyond normal closing hours to accommodate

Four of the seven circuit judgeships in the Third Judicial Circuit of Madison and Bond Counties will be vacant, at least briefly, this December, as two judges failed in their bids for retention Tuesday, adding to the two vacancies which will be created by resignations.

Spectators in the county courthouse Tuesday night watched closely as the votes were tabulated on the retention issue of Judges Victor J. Mosele of Madison County and John DeLaurenti of Bond County.

Mosele closely studied each precinct sheet posted in the courthouse lobby as supporters kept a running count of what was to be a tragedy for Judges Mosele and DeLaurenti by the early morning hours.

Although both won the popular votes in both counties for retention, they failed to win the required 60 percent yes votes of those voting on the retention issue.

Mosele had 38,831 yes votes in Madison County and 2,923 yes votes in Bond County, for a total of 40,754 yes votes. Nos totaled 34,685, including 33,229 in Madison County and 1,456 in Bond County, giving Mosele only 54.01 percent yes votes, not enough for retention.

DeLaurenti managed to get 59.26 percent yes votes, just short of the 60 percent required. He received 38,831 yes votes in Madison County and 4,329 yes votes in Bond County for a total of 43,160. Nos totaled 29,344 in Madison County and 1,461 in Bond County, a total of 30,805.

The judges had assailed a well-financed campaign by a group of attorneys, most based in Granite City. Advertisements showing that Mosele had been lenient on criminals in numerous cases were shown by Mosele to be old cases, some up to seven years old, and all the sentences were on the recommendations of the Madison County state's attorney's office.

He contended that a group of attorneys, spearheaded by Morris

Chapman of Granite City, had spent in excess of $20,000 to defeat him and DeLaurenti.

One Granite City resident who participated in the non-retention effort for Mosele said after the election, "I feel sorry for Judge DeLaurenti. I even voted for him. I don't know how he got dragged into this."

In addition to the vacancies in the circuit judge ranks caused by the failure of Mosele and DeLaurenti to be retained, there will be a Man hits woman who opens door

A woman resident of the 2400 block of Edwards St., opened her front door when a man called her by name last week and she was struck on the face by the individual, who also made a threatening remark.

Police said the woman sustained a nose injury, but declined medical attention. She did not recognize her assailant, described as 5 feet, 6 inches tall, between 25 and 28 years old, weighing about 160 pounds and having short dark hair.

POST CORPORATION QUARTERLY DIVIDEND
Post Corporation's directors has declared a dividend of 7 1/2 cents per share, payable Dec. 31 to stockholders of record Dec. 17. This is a reduction from the 12 1/2 cents that had been paid for seven quarters before July 25, 1980.

A spokesman said the dividend was reduced in the second quarter as a result of lower earnings. Post recently reported nine-month net income of $1,465,000 or 80 cents per share.

Report vandalism

Several incidents involving vandalism were reported to police last week including broken windows and slashed tires on vehicles.

Among those making reports were: John Doroghazi, a custodian at Granite City High School South, who said someone kicked in an eight-foot window at the South cafeteria, causing about $300 damage. Betty Bain, 2116 E. 24th St., who had two windows broken at her home from thrown objects; Lorelle Hurdley, 2600 Delmar Ave., who had a large front window smashed with a rock. Kati Vaughn, 25 Victoria Drive, who found numerous holes had been cut in the convertible top and interior of her auto while it was parked in the K-Mart store lot.

Tim Sherlock, 2700 Myrtle Ave., reported $400 damage to four tires on a 1979 Dodge pickup, parked in front of his house. Wanda Bailey, 2723 Nameoki Drive, said all four tires were slashed on a 1978 GMC truck which was parked in the driveway.

W. V. Hartman, 3408 Princeton Drive, reported during the weekend that vandals had broken a window and thrown eggs at his 1976 Lincoln while it was parked at Charlie's Restaurant.

PRE-ELECTION RALLY flyer is displayed by Jerry Malone, 1629 Sycamore Ave., which he found at the bottom of an old piano he was rebuilding. The flyer announced a Democratic rally in 1938, prior to that year's election day. The rally was to have been held in Croatian Hall, not in Madison, but in South St. Louis. Malone mounted the flyer onto the board.

Charge damage to property

Phillip L. Stamps, 42, of 1501 Grand Ave., was charged with criminal damage to property last week, following his arrest on the front porch at the home of Norma Young, 1911 Grand Ave.

Mrs. Young alleged Stamps tried to gain entry into her apartment Oct. 29 and was removed by officers. He returned Thursday, a short time before she called police, and had torn the screen and frame from a rear door, causing damage estimated at $40, and attempted to get in the front door, she alleged to officers.

More limited hospital visits being suggested

In order to evaluate the quality of patient services at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, five to 10 survey questionnaires each week are sent out on a random basis to recently discharged patients.

"Periodically, the questionnaire results are mailed, providing information that reflects patients' satisfaction or dissatisfaction with specific departments, procedures and services," a spokesman said today in noting comments on the duration of hospital visits.

"The questionnaire allows the former patients to evaluate services on a scale from one to 10, with 10 being the best. Space is provided for comments and suggestions."

"The most recent tally showed that patients rated personnel and Medical Center services well above average, with each category receiving a seven or above. "Although the laboratory has probably endured the greatest inconvenience because of construction, workers there have managed to do their job well; patients gave them a 9.2 rating overall," the spokesman related.

"The major complaint from the survey was about visitors. People complained that visitors stayed too long, that more than two at a time per patient were in the room, and that small children were unattended."

"To reduce this problem, visitors might consider limiting the time spent visiting, remembering that people who are ill may not feel up to visiting but are too polite to say so."

"Visiting a sick friend or family member is one way to show caring and concern for them. Other ways might be to run errands for the patient or family, prepare food for the patient's family, or provide child care or any other thoughtful service that would convey consideration."

Peanut desert precedes president's speech here

It was not exactly "business as usual when President Carter visited here Monday and our readers and sources have supplied some interesting sidelines we will pass along.

The joke was not wasted on the students at Coolidge Junior High School, who were anxious to finish their lunch and get dismissed to see the president. Full lunches were served, including peanuts for dessert.

Despite a detailed briefing before his talk here, including the local soccer achievements and the names of local officials, President Carter said he was proud to be the first Democratic nominee to visit since John F. Kennedy. Actually, George McGovern spoke at the same school just before the 1972 general election.

When members of Explorer Post 10-4 visited the Secret Service headquarters in Washington, D.C., this summer and made Director H. Stuart Knight an honorary member, they did not know they were setting themselves up for work. The Madison Explorers were pressed into service by the Madison police and Secret Service to assist in traffic control along the exit route of President Carter through Madison.

The rivalries between area high schools carried over into the several school bands present to greet President Carter. On several oc-

'Weird' man asks about girl pupil

A young man, described about 18 or 20 years old, who looked "weird and very strange," police were told, represented himself to be the father of an 11-year-old pupil at Edward Grade School at 3:05 p.m. Tuesday and asked to see the girl, calling her by name.

The principal informed the man that school had been dismissed at 3 p.m. The man left the building and, once outside, ran north on Wabash Avenue.

The child's mother told police the man's description did not match that of her former husband, nor anyone she could identify.

Election winners Tuesday included the white-tailed deer, which led in voting by Illinois students to select the official state animal.

Unofficial projections showed the deer capturing 35 percent of the vote to 27 percent for the racoon, followed by the red fox, the fox squirrel, the ground squirrel and the opossum. A write-in campaign developed for the skunk.

Final results will not be tabulated by the state boards of election and education until the end of November.

One man, who was among the thousands who heard the president's speech, went to the county's Democratic headquarters afterwards and was arrested for pushing a woman campaign worker and causing a disturbance. He said he was upset that he did not have a chance to shake the president's hand.

Perhaps President Carter's speech was responsible for him winning in Granite City in balloting Tuesday, but he was unable to carry Madison County, losing by more than 7,000 votes.

O'Neill also dismissed an Oct. 10 theft charge against Jeffrey Arnold, 19, of 2721 Birch Ave., on a motion by the state, and a Sept. 26 armed robbery charge against Elroy Newsome, 609 Mercedes St., Venice, on a state motion.

DEBBI GEBHARDT

TRACI KELLER

Two North students semi-finalist now

Debbi Gebhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold (Diane) Gebhardt, 2120 Clinton Drive, and Traci Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Carolyn) Keller both students at Granite City High School North have been named semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition.

National Merit Scholarship Corp. of Evanston, Ill., has released the names of 15,000 semifinalists in the competition for Merit Scholarships to be offered in 1981. The semifinalists named in every state represent the top half of one percent of the state's high school senior class, a spokesman said.

More than one million students enrolled in about 18,000 secondary schools nationwide entered the 1981 Merit Program by taking the PSAT-NMSQT in 1979, when most participants were juniors. The semifinalists announced today represent the highest scorers in each state.

In addition to being honored publicly, semifinalists are identified to colleges and universities in the hope of increasing their educational opportunities, he added.

More than 90 percent of these semifinalists are expected to advance to finalist standing by meeting further requirements, which include being fully endorsed and recommended for scholarships by their secondary school principals, submitting records that confirm high academic standing, and substantiating their high qualifying test scores with equivalent scores on another examination.

The group of 14,000 finalists will be notified next February that they are competing for about 4,500 Merit Scholarships to be awarded and announced next spring.

At least 1,000 of the awards in 1981 will be nonrenewable National Merit $1,000 Scholarships for which every finalist will be considered.

The one-time "National" awards are allocated on a state representative basis in proportion to the state's number of graduating seniors; in addition, a number of awards are offered to finalists from schools in the Districts of Columbia, U.S. independent schools enrolling students from several states, U.S. commonwealths and territories, and schools abroad that enroll U.S. citizens.

A Selection Committee of experienced college admissions officers and secondary school counselors will convene next January to choose these winners.

The selection process is a subjective one in which each finalist's academic record, self-description, achievements outside the classroom, two sets of aptitude test scores, and the high school principal's recommendation are evaluated.

Winners of National Merit $1,000 Scholarships represent the finalists in each state who are judged by the committee to best combine abilities and personal qualities needed for success during and after college. Most of the $1,000 awards are underwritten by corporate and business sponsors that also finance four-year scholarships for finalists who meet each grantor's preferential criteria.

Approximately 3,500 scholarships, most of which are worth between $1,000 and $8,000 over four years of undergraduate study, will be awarded in 1981. Of these, 1,550 will be financed by more than 400 corporations, company foundations, and business organizations that designate the four-year Merit Scholarships they support for children of company employees, for finalists from particular geographic areas, or for those planning careers a sponsor wishes to encourage, it was explained.

An additional 1,950 four-year awards will be underwritten by about 185 four-year college and university sponsors for finalists who wish to attend their institutions.

The names of Merit Scholarship winners will be released by NMSC next April in three separate news media announcements—one for each type of award. The 1981 competition marks the completion of twenty-six annual Merit Programs conducted by NMSC.

In the twenty-five competitions between 1956 and 1980, over 63,250 students won Merit Scholarships valued at about $175 million. Currently, over 16,500 Merit Scholars are enrolled in about 700 institutions of higher education throughout the United States.

Sludge stockpiled

late-arriving sludge trucks.

When after-hours hauling was discontinued, the small trucks were unable to keep up with the volume of sludge and a large pile began to develop. Their capacity had required operations 16 hours each day.

With the new hauling equipment, the city began to reduce the sludge stockpile. But as of this week, the sludge is accumulating again, creating worries because of the limited space and because of objections to the stockpile by the Granite City Army Installation and the Illinois EPA.

Displeased with the unilateral banning of sludge shipments to the landfill, Mayor Schuler indicated last night that he hopes for a prompt resolution of the disagreement. "We can't let the sludge continue to pile up," he emphasized.

Regarding the Michigan Metals bond issue, the mayor said it is being planned in conjunction with a federal development action grant sought through the Madison County government.

Council members said the pickling line would not curb Granite City Steel pickling, since the proposed new equipment would handle steel wider and thicker than that processed by the steelmaker. Michigan Metals is a tenant of Granite City Steel in the former Commonwealth plant.

Noting a $3,200,000 bond issue June 30, 1978, and a $900,000 issue June 1, 1979, for Michigan Metals, Mayor Schuler said the pickling project is the second of three phases proposed for the plant. The third will involve a burning procedure, he told the aldermen.

At the suggestion of Terrence McMillan, city sewage treatment plant superintendent, the council voted to encourage Michigan Metals to include environmental equipment in the pickling installation.

The partial mobile home ban, placed on first reading Oct. 28, was referred back to the ordinance committee on an 11-1 vote, with Sam Whitmer opposed and Lloyd Bailey and Mrs. Margaret Nann absent.

Cecil Phelps, 3008 Nameoki Drive, spokesman for a delegation of about ten opponents of the ban, submitted a petition with 11 signatures and said additional petitions are being circulated. He commented that many young people and elderly cannot afford to purchase or build frame or brick dwellings and need to be able to buy or rent mobile homes.

Paul Fisk, chairman of the ordinance committee, said he favors an ordinance similar to that enacted by the Madison County Board, but went along with the ban because it had support from a number of aldermen. He said he wanted to see some action taken against misrepresentation by some mobile home applicants.

Fisk promised next night that the committee will review the issue and quickly submit its findings and recommendation to the council. The next council meeting is scheduled for Nov. 18.

It was decided to refer three new mobile home permit requests to the City Plan Commission.

Individual mobile home proposals have not gone to the plan group in recent times, but City Attorney John Papa ruled that they must first be assigned to the commission before the council can act on them.

The decision to urge continuation of bus service through a county subsidy to the Bi-State Transit System was based on aldermen's concern for senior citizens and workers who depend on existing bus routes. Most local bus service is to end Dec. 31 unless the county creates a mass transit district and adopts a quarter-cent sales tax.

Mayor Schuler said he thinks it is likely the county will set up a three-member transit board composed of a County Board member, a mayor and either the County Board chairman or his representative.

Alderman Roy Poulos and the mayor stressed their belief that "we can't do without bus service."

The appeal for county action to continue present bus routes attracted unanimous approval in a voice vote.

In addition to authorizing pay increases, the council revised the grievance procedure available to street department workers. A caucus to develop the terms of the new procedure preceded last night's council meeting.

Grievances may be filed, in succession, with the foreman, street superintendent and then the superintendent, negotiations committee chairman and street and alley committee chairmen.

If the latter three fail to resolve an issue jointly with the three business representatives, a grievance can go to a binding hearing conducted by Illinois Labor Department arbitrator.

U.S. representative and senate.

In the county office races, Portell retained his job as circuit clerk with 33,610 votes to 14,847 for his opponent, Hardin. Hardin said he was gratified that he was considered a serious candidate and that the Republican party seems to be making a resurgence in Madison County.

Incumbent Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas, a Democrat, outpolled his opponent, Republican Joseph Young in the county 51,815 to 41,997.

Dr. Felicia Koch of Granite City, a Republican, failed to top incumbent Democrat incumbent County Coroner Dallas Burke of Alton, but her contention is that she feels the coroner should be a doctor rather than a mortician did gain her 36,767 votes. Beauty salon has new sensor perm Susan's Shear Delight, beauty salon, located at 5401 Kate St., has acquired the Realistic Sensor Perm, a new computer-like permanent waving system that produces a perfect perm every time, according to Susan Morgan, shop owner.

"Because this advanced electronic system is programmed by the hairdresser to monitor and control perm processing, perming can now be specially customized to each individual patron's hair type and condition, the shop owner said.

She added the salon also offers a complete line of beauty services including eyebrow arching and the application of individual eyelashes.

vacancy caused by the election of Judge Moses W. Harrison II of Granite City as a judge in the Appellate Court at Mount Vernon, a position he currently holds by appointment. He also won his circuit judgeship again, but is expected to decline it for the appellate judgeship.

Harrison earned reelection to his circuit post by a vote of 48,426 yes to 17,520 nos, just for the record.

Another vacancy will be created by Judge Andreas A. Matosian of Granite City when he changes posts. Matosian currently is serving as a circuit judge by appointment to the post created when Judge Harold Clark resigned to become an administrative law judge for the Social Security Administration.

Tuesday, Matosian was elected to the vacant post created when Judge William Beatty was appointed a U.S. District Court judge. Matosian in December will permanently assume Judge Beatty's vacancy, leaving the former post occupied by Judge Clark vacant.

The Illinois Supreme Court is responsible for making appointments to fill those vacancies. Supreme Court Justice Joseph Goldenbergh, who also sought and gained retention, had 47,243 yes votes to 18,440 nos.

Mrs. Joett said that one of the 10 bids on houses to go out next week will be for the home of Mrs. Neomi Boelling, 1300 Robin St., Venice, which Mueller alleges has been approved for nearly two years.

Mrs. Joett said the work done on seven homes which the city was using CETA workers, prior to Community Development taking over the rehabilitation program, had to be redone, because the work did not pass the housing inspection codes.

Woman hurt at campaign office

Jimmy Kostoff, 32, of 1223 Iowa St., Madison, allegedly came into Democratic campaign headquarters at 3075 Nameki Road at 3:55 p.m. Monday, screamed obscenities and pushed a woman against the front door, knocking her to the floor.

Kostoff was arrested and charged with battery.

A second charge of reckless driving was added, police said, when it was reported Kostoff's pickup truck ran into the front of a campaign trailer, while he was making a turn into a parking place outside the headquarters.

Sylvia Theis of Granite City, owner of the campaign trailer, which also was being used as an extension to the campaign headquarters, said that Kostoff came in the headquarters screaming obscenities, pushed her and knocked her to the floor.

The man said he was upset, the woman reported, because he didn't get to talk with the President of the United States.

Mrs. Theis, 42, who suffered pains to her right shoulder and arm, was treated in the emergency room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and released.

Non-government job emphasis by Manpower staff

Increasing attention is being given to securing of permanent, private sector jobs, rather than government make-work positions, Granite City Rotarians were told last week by officials of the Madison and Bond counties Office of Manpower Development.

A talk and photographic narration were presented by William Hanke, Manpower manager of program operations. Also present were David Stoecklin, coordinator of the vocational education division, Larry Miller, AFT-CIO liaison for CETA (Comprehensive Employment and Training Act), and Lynn Merrick.

It was noted that CETA was enacted in 1973, with the Madison County program established in January 1974. The staff has grown from 10 to nearly 100 and there are offices in Edwardsville, Granite City, Alton and Greenville.

The yearly budget has increased from less than $1 million to more than $10 million, financed through the U. S. Department of Labor. In a typical year, 200 begin training in this area in the basic portion of the program. Fifty drop out before completion of the training. Of the remaining 150, about 100 obtain jobs for which they were trained. Hanke told the Rotary club. He was introduced by Robert Maxwell.

A question and answer session brought out that financial incentives are provided to firms willing to hire CETA trainees. Among the newer programs are familiarization of 14- and 15-year-olds with vocational environments.

Rotary President George Modre presided, and Darryl Slater inducted Oscar Nazetta as a new member. Nazetta is manager of the Foreign Trade Zone of the Tri-City Regional Port.

Multiple charges against GC youth

Four charges of aggravated assault and one charge each of resisting arrest, battery (state) and criminal damage to property (state) were filed against Raymond M. Israel Jr., 17, of 2442 Adams St., following an incident occurring at 8:20 p.m. Monday on the 24th Street Parkway, between Delmar and Edison avenues.

A group of youths, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years old, playing soccer at that location, informed officers that Israel got out of an auto, asked directions to a residence and then began making threats toward several in the group while allegedly holding a knife in his hand.

Israel asked the names of those present, allegedly made threatening remarks toward some in the group and lifted the knife over his head.

The father of one youth was driving by and saw the confrontation and allegedly heard Israel yelling at his son, who was standing in an alley nearby. The father also reported being threatened by Israel.

The occupants of the vehicle in which Israel had arrived at the scene apparently made an effort to calm the youth, without success, and Israel left, walking north in the 2400 block of Edison Avenue.

Officers searched the area and said they saw Israel lying on the ground near a vehicle in a driveway between two houses. When he spotted the officers, Israel allegedly started running toward an alley where he allegedly struggled with a police sergeant before being arrested.

In the squad car, Israel allegedly kicked a car door, damaging the door panels and bending the upper framework. He also broke the glass in the window and refused to get out of the car at the station, it was alleged.

In removing Israel from the vehicle, a police sergeant was kicked in the right elbow and was treated for the injury at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, according to official reports.

A seven-inch knife with a three-inch blade was confiscated from Israel, it was alleged. A second man who was with Israel when arrested was not charged.

Evening hours at guidance office

In order to accommodate working parents who would like to talk with a Guidance Counselor about their son's or daughter's schedule of classes or about college scholarship, career information or about family problems, the Guidance Office at GCHS South will have evening hours from 6 to 8 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 10.

According to James Dumont, principal, and Mrs. Sonya Adckerson, guidance director, this will be an experimental program. If the parent-response seems to indicate a need for such a service, evening hours may be established on a regular basis.

Parents are urged to call South's Guidance Office to schedule an evening appointment for Nov. 10, phone 877-1512.

Student nurses succeed on tests

Belleville Area College nursing students, writing the nursing examinations for state registered nurse certification in July, were overwhelmingly successful. Forty-five graduates of BAC wrote the exams, and 44 passed. The other student failed only one of the five exams that RN licensure requires.

Depending on whether the number of students or the number of tests are used for criteria, the passing rate was either 97.7 percent or above 99 percent.

BAC nursing graduates, with the exception of one year in the program's 13-year history, have done well on the licensure exam. Their passing rate is usually about 90 percent.

Thieves get car batteries

A garage at the home of Marie Moore, 2304 Missouri Ave., was entered by a burglar who stole a 12-volt battery worth $45 from a 1970 auto, last week.

Twelve-volt batteries also were stolen from a auto belonging to Robert Batson, 2014 Park Ave., parked in the 2100 block of Bryan Avenue, and a vehicle owned by Darmond Broyles, 2429 Bryan Ave., which was parked next to his garage in the driveway.

At the Broyles address, it was believed the garage also was entered as a door was found ajar.

Study impact of waterway taxes

The Bi-State Development Agency board at its October meeting endorsed plans for its staff to undertake a study of local waterways user charges for the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis' Advisory Council. Bi-State serves as regional coordinator for the port and chairs the Port Advisory Council.

A total of $18,000 needed to conduct the study was accepted by the board from the National Waterways Conference, the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission. The study by Dr. Lonnie E. Hefner of the Washington University department of civil engineering is expected to take six months to complete.

On Oct. 1, 1980, a four-cent per gallon federal tax on fuel used by commercial vessels was implemented. This tax will increase to 10 cents per gallon by 1985.

Revenue raised by the fuel surcharge is to be used to pay for maintenance and construction of locks, dams and other facilities on the nation's waterways.

"There was considerable discussion in the last session of Congress to increase the tax to 70 cents per gallon," said Charles G. Houghton, Bi-State executive director and chairman of the Port Advisory Council. "A high user charge such as this could be extremely detrimental to our economy in general."

"The purpose of the study is to measure the economic impact of various waterway user charge alternatives being considered.

"We are concerned that alternatives being developed nationally could have an adverse effect on our local economy."

Houghton added, "Unless a local study is done, we will have no means of determining what that effect may be. And without a local study we will be unable to properly tell our congressional leaders which alternatives, if any, are reasonable ones to support."

The local study will determine commodity flow forecasts, with and without user charge impacts; identification of current user charge study efforts on the national level; development of user charge alternatives; and a computation of economic impacts brought about by user charges on the Port of Metropolitan St. Louis.

Man charged in Pontoon burglary

Phillip White, 20, of 4137 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach, has been charged with a burglary in that village and was taken last week to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville in lieu of bond.

White allegedly was taken into custody following a burglary at the apartment of Vance Staggs, 3909 Gaslight Walk.

Items taken included a $90 yellow gold necklace, a $150 cassette tape player and $125 in cash.

Church workers' wallets stolen

Wallets were taken from the purses of two women working at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2103 Cleveland Blvd.

Mrs. Myrtle Soechtig, 2659 Delmar Ave., said her wallet containing $33 was stolen and Mrs. Florine Compton, 2337 Edison Ave., reported her wallet with $8 and other items inside also was gone. A church employee said a young woman between 16 and 18 years old was seen wandering around inside the church a short time before the thefts were discovered. The girl was heavy-set with dark hair and was wearing jeans and a blue jacket.

Ephesian 6:12 . . . "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

Our lives might be somewhat simpler if we realized and acknowledged that the powers of darkness were in battle against God. We wrestle not against flesh and blood. It is not our neighbor we must be on guard against. It is Satan and his demons.

We really have no fight against change. Against progress. There is no battle between the old and the new. But there is a battle against the false and the true.

We cannot compromise the gospel of Christ. We cannot change the truth. His truth is the truth that sets men free.

Righteousness can never be at peace with unrighteousness.

Fight Satan and his kingdom. Be at peace with your neighbor and with God.

Whistle stoppin' in Granite City

There was a little old-fashioned whistle stoppin' in Granite City on Monday past. And it wasn't just your every day local politician who was doing the campaigning. For the first time since George McGovern stopped here in 1972, a Democratic presidential candidate made an appearance — President Jimmy Carter.

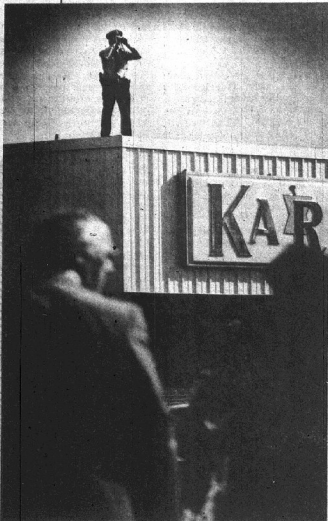

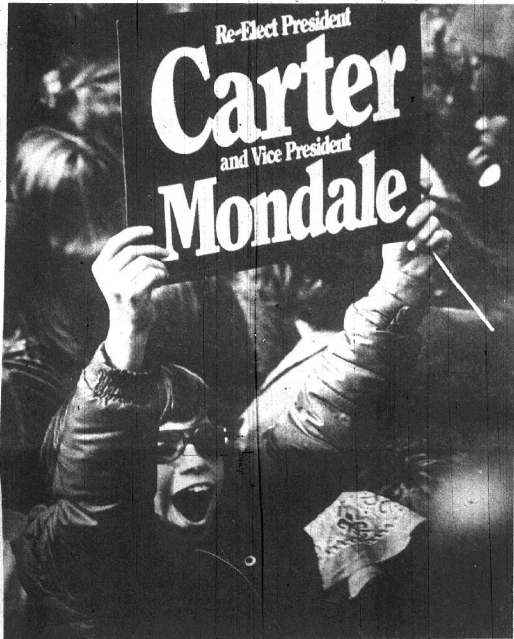

President Carter became the first president since Harry Truman to campaign in Granite City when he made a 45-minute stop here Monday. He spoke to a crowd of around 7,000 on the front lawn of Granite City High School South on the eve of the presidential election. The mood was festive — high school bands from both Granite City High School North and South along with those from Madison, Edwardsville, Collinsville and East Alton-Wood River played before the president's arrival and as he motorcaded his way to the rally site.

Many of the people at the rally weren't able to vote in Tuesday's election — they're too young. School children by the hundreds were allowed to miss school so that they could get a glimpse of the president of the United States.

Security was tight in the area surrounding the high school grounds. Armed policemen dotted rooftops all along Nameeki Road and Madison Avenue. Secret Service agents and Illinois State Policemen were spread through the crowd. After the president finished his speech, he walked through the crowd, shook hands, got back in his limousine and made his way to East St. Louis before leaving for Springfield. No, and finally, Detroit — whistle stoppin' to the last possible minute.

VISITING CANDIDATE, Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, visited Granite City at 5:15 p.m. Thursday and stressed the importance of the Madison-St. Clair County area in electing past presidents of the United States. He urged all Quad-City area residents to attend President Carter's speech at Granite City High School South at noon today and asked for their support in his own campaign. Dental students sixth in nation

The first graduating class in the dental laboratory technology program at Lewis and Clark Community College placed sixth in the nation out of 55 colleges in written examinations administered by the National Board of Certification in Dental Laboratory Technology.

The DLT program was added to LCCC's curriculum in 1978, graduating its first class in May 1980.

Certification requires five years' work experience or two years of study at an accredited college and three years of work, plus passing scores on written exams.

Dental laboratory technicians construct and repair dentures, orthodontic appliances and dental ceramics. The craft requires manipulative skill, precise workmanship and intensive study in dental health care.

The ten students whose averaged scores placed sixth nationwide included Kim Kleinschmidt of Granite City.

'BIG JIM,' Governor James Thompson, who says he has been campaigning as hard for Ronald Reagan for president as he ever campaigned for himself, arrived in Granite City Halloween night to address a sparse, but enthusiastic crowd in Namecki Village Shopping Center. Just to the left of Gov. Thompson is Don Weber, GOP candidate for state's attorney and behind the governor are Charles Hardin, Republican candidate for circuit clerk, and Dr. Felicia Koch of Granite City, GOP candidate for coroner. Thompson compared Jimmy Carter's administration to the horrors of Halloween, saying Carter has the country on the brink of war and of financial chaos.

Cong. Price, 3 state legislators re-elected

By BILL WINTER

Some key members of Congress lost out in Tuesday's Republican landslide, but Congressman Melvin Price, East St. Louis, easily won a 19th consecutive two-year term.

Perhaps the most consistent vote-getter ever produced by the Madison-St. Clair counties area, Cong. Price rolled up at least 107,106 votes this week compared to 59,617 for Republican Ronald Davinroy of O'Fallon.

Price is chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and a longtime member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

Complete, unofficial St. Clair County returns show Price with a tally of 62,914 to 34,873 for Davinroy. Unofficial Madison County returns for 221 of the 222 precincts show the 36-year congressman with 44,192 votes to 24,745 for Davinroy. A Godfrey precinct list was sealed in the ballot bag and will be unavailable until the official canvass of the general election returns is completed in several days.

The 23rd Illinois Congressional District consists of all of St. Clair County and the southern and western areas of Madison County.

In the 56th Legislative District serving most of Madison County and also Canteen Township in St. Clair County, three incumbents captured new two-year terms in the Illinois House of Representatives.

After their service in 1981 and 1982, the 56th will be divided into two new districts, in conformity with the legislative cutback amendment approved by voters statewide Tuesday.

Cumulative voting has now ended, and instead of 59 three-member House districts there will be 118 one-member districts.

Leading the totals was Rep. Sam Wolf, Granite City Democrat, with 61,254 and next was Rep. Everett Steele, Glen Carbon Republican, with 59,284.

The third 66th District post went to Rep. Jim McPike, Alton Democrat, with 57,880. Losing out was Joseph Frano, Fairmont City Republican, who totaled 24,154.

The Madison-St. Clair vote breakdowns, in that order, are 56,599 and 4,755 for Wolf, 57,696 and 2,195 for Steele, 55,760 and 4,120 for McPike and 22,375 and 1,781 for Frano.

Steele in January will begin his fourth successive two-year Illinois House term, McPike his third and Wolf his second.

Venice Township is under fire on debt

By MICK STRANGE

Venice Township came under criticism at the Venice City Council meeting Tuesday evening for non-payment for fire department calls made in Venice Township, but outside of the Venice City limits.

Venice Third Ward Alderman John Erwin, chairman of the aldermanic fire committee, said that Venice Township owes between $12,000 and $14,000 for fire calls since the first of the year.

"We need to take some action on this. The fire chief and I will present a detailed report to the council at the next meeting. Then we will see what action to take," Erwin said.

Alderman Charles Haynes asked, "Why do we continue to make the calls outside the city, if the township is not paying us?"

Echols replied, "Well, from the humanitarian point, I can see us providing fire protection. However, I would say we need to wait until the next meeting and hear what recommendations the aldermanic fire committee makes before we take any action."

Venice Township Supervisor Christ N. Pashoff told the Press-Record Wednesday that, "We are paying them $1,000 per quarter (three months) from sharing funds and, as we get more money, we'll give it to them."

"No way we are not going to give Venice the funds due and I think it is about $12,000. We should have the thing paid in full by September, 1981," Pashoff said.

Venice has a fee of $300 for every call made outside the city. Pashoff noted that one of the township problems is getting the people whose homes or property catch fire to pay Venice Township, which in turn pays the city.

The council passed a resolution appropriating $34,000 from motor fuel tax funds for maintenance of state-specified streets between Jan. 1, 1981, through Dec. 31, 1981.

The council authorized Attorney Larry Hartman to file suit against the Illinois Terminal Railroad in the amount of about $15,000, plus court costs. The railroad allegedly damaged some ties on the east side of McKinley bridge, half-way between the trusses and the approach, during repair work about two years ago, and then allegedly repaired them, according to Thomas Fields, bridge manager. The repairs have not been made, he said.

Hartman also was given authority to file suit against any company for overdue bridge accounts. At the moment one company owes the bridge is about $600.

The council authorized a street light be erected on a pole in the alley between Washington and Jefferson streets, four feet from Sixth Street.

SAFETY ACHIEVEMENT for the Basic Oxygen Furnace department at Granite City Steel. The staff worked a calendar month — for the first time in the 13-year history of the BOF department — without a single injury of any kind. Presenting the newly established award is primary general superintendent Joe Ossola, left to BOF superintendent Jim Squires. Others are crane operator Jerry Broadwater, second from left, and melter foreman Bruce Hoffman, far right.

Safety awards to 2 departments at Granite City Steel

The first two new safety awards have been presented by Granite City Steel President James V. Stack to two plant departments for recent safety accomplishments.

Known as Safety Achievement Awards, the citations were presented to the Department of Metallurgy and Quality Control (DMQC) and the Basic Oxygen Furnace (BOF) shop. Specially-designed framed certificates have been given to the two departments.

The DMQC accomplishment recognized a two-year period that employees of the department have worked without a disabling injury. Stack said the exposure of DMQC people to all sorts of plant situations made the achievement even more noteworthy. He said, "The number of manhours included under the OSHA-reportable system was equivalent to the older safety standard of a million manhours without a lost-time injury."

In the BOF department, where iron and scrap are transformed into steel, the award marked the first totally injury-free month in the 13-year history of the department. In September, Stack explained, "the BOF shop went without any recordable injury whatsoever, and anybody familiar with this operation can appreciate what kind of achievement that really is."

He continued, "Both departments' employees management as well as hourly personnel — deserve praise for their outstanding performances in safety. I hope their example will inspire other plant departments to learn from what they have accomplished."

ESSINGTON HONORED

Madison insurance executive Richard G. Essington was named to national sales leadership honors for September by the Franklin Life Insurance Co., Springfield. His performance was among the best in the company's nationwide network of more than 4,000 field associates. Designated a member of the Franklin's President's Club, Essington will receive special recognition from President William J. Alley.

Arrest two on warrants

Two men being sought on warrants issued by the Jersey County sheriff's office were arrested last week by Madison police at a tavern in the 1000 block of Greenwood Street. Taken into custody were Hideo Howard Burcham, 46, of Godfrey, who was sought on warrants alleging one count of theft over $150 and one count of theft by possession, and Sidney G. Burcham, 48, of Fieldon, Ill., who was wanted on warrants charging two counts of theft by possession.

Bands of $40,000 were set on each man.

Man takes kit from TV store

A video-tape cleaning kit in a gray box, valued at $50, was stolen from Bert's Audio-TV, 1910 Delmar Ave., last week.

A clerk said he saw a man place an object beneath his jacket and walk out of the store. It later was discovered that the kit was missing. The thief was described as about 20 years old with long dark brown hair. He was wearing blue jeans, a green hooded sweat shirt and a blue jean jacket. A search for the man in the downtown area was unsuccessful.

Salzman-Nance wedding at Mt. Zion Baptist

Miss Angela Cheryl Nance and Paul David Salzman exchanged wedding vows July 11 at Mount Zion General Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nance, 2018 Illinois Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Salzman of Ladd, Ill.

The Rev. James McNeely performed the nuptial ceremony at 8 p.m. The bride selected a floor length gown of white lace over tulle featuring an empire bodice. A satin ribbon encircled the waist and came to a bow in the back.

Satin ribbon and lace trailed from her white picture hat, and she carried a silk bouquet of peach roses. Vicky Nance attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a peach gown with a cape in beige, brown and white. Her flowers were a silk bouquet of peach, beige, brown and white roses.

Bridesmaids Terri Nail, a sister of the bride, and Robin Barnes wore off-white dresses complemented with capes. Their flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

Keith Mecher served as best man. Groomsman were Lloyd Ball and Michael Nance, a brother of the bride. Kurt Mecher seated the guests. Nephews of the bride, David Nance and Brian Nail, were ringbearers.

Flower girls Amy and Becky Callis, nieces of the groom, wore gowns matching the maid of honor.

A rehearsal dinner was held in the groom's home and the parents of the bride hosted a reception in their home.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School South and is employed as an administrative assistant at CPI Corp. in St. Louis. Her husband is a graduate of Valmeyer High School. He is employed as a foreman at CPI Corp.

The newlyweds are now residing in Granite City.

Compensation costs, lack of incentives cited as why Nissan didn't build plant here

A new Nissan vehicle plant is to be built 20 miles south of Nashville, Tenn., rather than in Granite City or Jacksonville, Ill., because of six negative factors, John W. Castle said this week.

Director of the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs, Castle listed land costs; the effect of weather on plant operations; and "liveability"; the preference of Nissan's top American executive; labor costs, including workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance; the cost of transporting components from Japan; and the distance from key markets in the Southeast and West.

"Plus factors" for the potential Illinois sites were the labor supply; labor ability and skills; proximity to auto industry suppliers; close prior relations with Japan and Nissan, including contacts by industrialists and Governor James R. Thompson; and the presence of major financial centers like Chicago, Castle said.

A $300 million plant to be built on a site of at least 500 acres at Smyrna, Tenn., will employ 2,200 persons.

Detailed planning is being started and construction will follow in 1981, with production of 10,000 Datsun pickup trucks monthly starting in 1983.

The plant will include all production phases, from stamping through final assembly. Of the parts it will assemble, 40 percent will come from the U.S. and 60 percent will be imported.

Nissan made its choice after six years of deliberation. At least 39 states offered sites, and the small group of "finalists" included Illinois Power Co. and Union Electric Co. tracts here on opposite corners of the intersection of Interstate 270 and Illinois Highway Three.

"We made an all-out effort," Castle says of the state government's interest in luring the assembly plant to Illinois. If the Tennessee operation proves successful, the new plant is expected to be expanded during the 1980s.

to add auto production to the initial truck output.

Castle is unhappy with the latest in a long list of plant acquisition victories for the area of "Sun Belt" states. Such states offer not only a slightly warmer climate but also what some firms regard as a prospect of lower labor and operating costs.

Illinois legislators have been trying to "reform" compensation laws after their state-ordered changes boosted costs in comparison to other states in the mid-1970s.

Although some revisions in the compensation laws were made by the General Assembly this year, the state still has an image of being an expensive place to do business, Nissan indicated.

Actually, Illinois placed only fourth in the Datsun plant competition, Castle believes. He says the state trailed not only Tennessee but also Georgia of the South and Ohio of the Midwest.

He adds that Illinois proposed a total of 35 sites, focusing mainly on Granite City, Jacksonville, Kankakee, Galesburg, Joliet and Dixon.

At an April meeting with Nissan executives at the governor's mansion in Springfield, the state spotlighted advantages of the Granite City area.

The Chicago Tribune said this week that the Japanese were surprised by this because they had turned down Granite City a year ago.

Nissan is said to have not wanted its plant to be in a metropolitan area, nor did it want to be near a competing auto plant. However, Nashville is somewhat of a metropolitan, and the nearest auto plants to Granite City are mainly in St. Louis County. A General Motors assembly plant in the City of St. Louis is to be closed and a new GM plant is being built to the west of the local metropolitan area.

Castle says the state was unaware of any 1979 rejection of Granite City by Nissan. But a member of the Nissan survey team is quoted this week as contending that "Illinois never did offer us the kind of site that we ideally wanted to see. This was the major negative factor—the absence of a site that met our wishes."

In August, Nissan hired a former Ford Motor Co. official, Marvin Runyon, to run its proposed plant. A former Texan, Runyon pushed strongly for a site in the South, asserting that Ford production in Atlanta, Ga., was more efficient than at Ford plants in the North.

But one source says the key point was that Runyon and his wife did not want to live this far North.

A final point is that Illinois offered no major financial incentives, such as tax abatement.

Georgia and Tennessee, meanwhile, were competing vigorously by proposing various incentives. A Nissan executive comments, "We heavily populated or heavily other, and were able to get very good terms and conditions."

New county center for educational and career information

Free educational and career information is available to the public through the Educational Information Center (EIC) program, a federal plan administered by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission.

"Many people consider alternatives such as job changes, finishing high school, investigating apprenticeships, going to graduate school or other possibilities, but often don't actually do it because of a lack of information and resources," County School Supt. Harold E. Briggs said this week.

"The regional superintendent of schools office in Madison County has been selected as an Educational Information Center in order to offer information and counseling to people of all ages."

"We are able to provide career information, including job trends, career descriptions, training requirements and wages. In addition, we have information about apprenticeships, technical and vocational programs and two-year and four-year university programs."

"Financial aid information, applications and other supportive service information are available including child care, tutoring, non-traditional programs and others available in Illinois."

"Our staff at the center is well aware that each person's situation is different. We are prepared to help find an opportunity suited to you."

"We know that busy schedules and many responsibilities sometimes require flexible solutions, and we want to help you find new opportunities."

"If you are considering a change, you can take advantage of this free community service by calling 692-4530, or writing or visiting Harold E. Briggs, Regional Supt. of Schools, 201 Hillsboro, Courthouse Annex, Edwardsville 62025."

Leaf burning legal; caution advised here

By PAULA CASE
Director, Granite City Air Pollution Control

Local residents may burn the leaves now falling from the trees, according to the Illinois state law, but the Granite City Air Pollution Control Agency recommends some caution.

A bill passed by the Illinois legislature in August 1973 prohibits the Illinois Pollution Control Board from banning leaf burning throughout the state.

Such a ban may be imposed by local ordinance or if scientific evidence shows that burning in a specific area would be injurious to humans, plant or animal life or health.

Since Granite City does not have an ordinance banning leaf burning, and the local agency has adopted the state rules and regulations, local residents may burn leaves.

However, only leaves may be burned — limb and grass cuttings, brush, or any other materials are not exempt from the open burning regulations.

A word of caution to residents is that they may be subject to a violation notice for burning leaves, if a neighbor complains that the burning is injurious to them.

The agency asks residents to consider the results of studies which show that some types of cancer-causing compounds have been discovered in smoke given off by Illinois leaves burned under test conditions.

Leaf burning presents potential toxic hazards, especially in highly populated areas.

A study done at the University of Illinois Medical School by the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources shows that a high level of carcinogenic cancer-causing substances — is released into the air by burning leaves and can be dangerous to people living in heavily populated or heavily industrialized areas.

Open burning of leaves is particularly harmful to individuals who suffer from asthma. Therefore, we recommend that persons with asthmatic conditions stay inside their homes during the fall-leaf burning season.

Although many years ago the burning of leaves was not significant, the physical environment under existing conditions can be overloaded, due to the fact that many urban areas are already highly polluted.

A much wiser alternative for leaf disposal would be to use the leaves for mulch.

However, if burning is during the middle of the day, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., the atmospheric dilution capacity is the greatest.

More than 100 members and guests attended the traditional dinner-dance at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

Top honors for the 1980 club year were received by Barbara Gates, who was chosen "Diver of the Year" and Phil Lamm who was "Spearfisherman of the Year."

The title conferred on Mrs. Gates is the highest honor a diver can receive and is awarded for "dedicated and outstanding" contributions in diving, as well as for promoting diving, aquatic sports, safety and club activities. She was presented a large trophy.

Lamm's title was achieved by accumulating the highest number of points during competitive meets in 1980. He received trophies for "largest fish" speared in May and June, in addition to the title trophy.

"Largest fish" trophies also were presented to Ed Duffin, winner in July; Bob Gault, August; and Tom Mueller, September.

Excellence in underwater photography also was acknowledged this year with awards.

Trophies in this field went to Ron Ruppel for 'environmental subjects in salt water, Randy Viessman for nature study subjects in salt water and Bill Harton for nature study subjects in fresh water.

Special awards for "outstanding" contributions to the club were presented to Paula Weiss, entertainment chairman; Tom Mueller, dive master; Randy Viessman, armistice; Arnold Sanders, vice president; Larry Earney, treasurer; and Mrs. Gates, recording secretary.

An election of officers was conducted with Arnold Sanders winning the office of president.

Other officers selected are:

Paul Foster, vice president; Larry Earney, treasurer; and Marian Sanders, recording secretary.

Glen Gates, retiring president, announced the selection of the Bubblemasters for the Midwest Divers Council's annual "Club of the Year" award.

The honor conferred at the annual MDC convention held Oct. 28 in Kansas City is presented annually to a club displaying "outstanding work in diving, water sports and community relations and activities," Gates advised.

At the MDC banquet, Gates was presented a National Catch Record trophy, for spearing a 10 pound, two

Arnold Sanders of the Bubblemasters was awarded an Ambassador's award at the event for his contributions to diving.

The Midwest Divers Council consists of scuba clubs in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Arkansas.

At the Bubblemasters' dinner-dance, among the special guests were members of the St. Louis Scuba Club and the Lung Rangers of St. Louis.

Music for dancing was provided by The Variations band.

Election results reflect this community's hopes for improved national, county governmental performance

The front page of today's Press-Record includes a picture of two happy and successful Republican candidates in Tuesday's general election, President-elect Ronald Reagan and Donald Weber, winner for the office of Madison County state's attorney. They were photographed while shaking hands during the pre-election campaign.

Voters apparently also are happy about the outcome, having supported former Governor Reagan by landslide proportions throughout the nation, and having backed the usual Democratic trend in this county to make Weber a victor by a close margin over the two-term incumbent prosecutor. Whether the election result will be as happy as the public wishes it to be remains to be seen, of course, but it is clear that voters felt this was "time for a change" in the conduct of the presidency and in the approach to county governmental duties.

Most are convinced that President Jimmy Carter did his best in his four years in the White House. But the public obviously did not accept his campaign assertions that his policies offered the best hope of solving inflation and unemployment and dealing with terrorism and Communist aggression.

President-elect Reagan, who will become the nation's 40th chief executive on Jan. 20, said in his victory statement that "it will be my sacred trust to do my utmost to justify your faith in me. I am not frightened by what lies ahead, and I don't think the American people are frightened by what lies ahead. Together, we will do what must be done. The first thing is to get America back to work again. We will tap the great American spirit that opened up this completely undeveloped continent. Mr. Reagan, who outdistanced the incumbent by over 7,000 votes in this county, pledged in his campaign talks to reverse "our disintegrating economy, our rampant diseases, and our energy policy based on sharing fewer and fewer resources."

It is hard to see how the incumbent in a second term could have remedied the hostilities held in Iran, obtained a fair and safe armament limit, effectively fought nuclear proliferation and coped with the growing network of "hot spots" around the world. His challenger, in contrast, may be able to succeed with a fresh approach to all these issues.

Pres. Carter pledged to cooperate fully in the transition of power and to work to make the next four years successful for America. Quad-Cityans heartily join in this view, because the president is the leader of all the people and his success is closely linked to whether citizens prosper and achieve the happiness and happiness. At the county level, no one party has a "corner on the market" of high-quality candidates, and the whole process works better—the public's standpoint—when there is lively competition and a real prospect of either party triumphing.

With the sensitive office of prosecutor now to be held by a member of the opposite party, and with the GOP making a strong showing for other countywide elective offices on Tuesday, all officeholders will have a bit of extra motivation to do their very best to serve efficiently and diligently.

United, Quad-Cityans can reach their campaign goal

Guest comment by the Tri-Cities Area United Way — Our society has several positive facets, including education, morals and manners, family life, care for our children, charity and concern for those less fortunate. There have always been some departures from these ideals, and it seems that many people may have abandoned or reduced such commitments because of the economic recession. Admittedly, there is unemployment in some industries and those people cannot be expected to match the charity of those gainfully employed. However, most of those who are employed earn a good living plus something extra for charity.

The same is true for many small businesses—not all, but many. Then there is the large group of retired persons, because of a good pension plan, Social Security and their own investment skills, many are in a position to help those who are less fortunate.

The United Way is by far the most efficient way to give. Only about 10 percent of each dollar contributed is required for administration.

Fifteen agencies are funded by it. A vast majority of local area families use one or more of these agencies. The agencies, in turn, many times, ranging from the Red Cross blood bank and disaster relief to the treatment and rehabilitation of individuals who fall prey to alcoholism. No one can deny the value of the YMCA with its family facilities, meeting places and exercise facilities.

The other agencies also touch the lives of all in some manner each year, such as the Arthritis Foundation, Boy Scouts, Catholic Charities, Co-Ordinated Youth Services, Easter Seals, Family Counseling Center, Children's Home & Aid Society of Illinois, Madison County Urban League, Protestant Welfare Association, Tri-Cities Association for the Retarded, Salvation Army and Visiting Nurse Association.

When we fail to support the United Way, we actually fail our cities and our society. Admittedly, there is a vast army of volunteers who give their time, effort and funds to make the campaign goal. All should be highly commended for their dedication, just as we thank all those who give.

It has been estimated that every dollar collected by these volunteers is multiplied ten times because of their free labor, time and expenses.

All around us we see reports of campaigns going "over the top." Certainly, their economy is no better than ours. It is our sincere hope that our participation will increase in the next three weeks and that our Tri-Cities campaign will go the goal as well, so we may continue our reputation of caring for our own; our society is not weak on charity.

At the time of the United Way's intentions of a society, of course, can be severely tested under the bright light of reality. The United Way hopes to have 90 percent by the next report on Nov. 19, and an over-the-top final report Dec. 3.

"The drive is on target to date, but time is moving on. We are in the 'third quarter' now and need a couple of more weeks. The game plan is that 'we can do it!'"

Reagan, Dixon, Welch win

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record
Madison County residents were in the majority in approving Tuesday's election of Ronald Reagan of California as president, Democrat Alan Dixon of Belleville as U. S. senator from Illinois, and Republican Thomas Welch of Collinsville as a judge of the appellate court.

Reagan by a landslide victory captured 489 electoral votes to 49 for President Jimmy Carter. Reagan received 2,201,220 votes to 341,933 for Pres. Carter, 5,881,379 for independent John B. Anderson, 881,532 for Libertarian Ed Clark and 21,085 for the Citizens Party's Barry Commoner.

Nationally, Republicans garnered a 53-47 majority in the Senate, adding 12 seats, and cut Democrats' advantage in the House to 343-182 by gaining 33 seats.

With 90 percent of the Illinois precincts reporting, Secretary of State Dixon won the Senate race with 2,493,080 votes to 1,924,063 for Lieutenant Governor David O'Neal (R).

Governor James R. Thompson will appoint a Republican to replace Governor Dixon. The latter resigns as secretary of state to go to the Senate.

Republicans gained four legislative positions Tuesday and now trail Democrats in the number of governors, 27-23.

Congressman Paul Simon of Carbondale, who formerly represented the Quad-City area in the Illinois legislature, won in the 24th District by 110,880 to 108,792 for John T. Anderson (R).

The proposal to reduce the size of the Illinois House, needing 60 percent approval, passed with 1,615,700 "Yes" votes to 799,509.

Republicans gained control of the Illinois House in Tuesday's general election by a 91-86 margin, with a net gain of three positions added to their previous 88-89 minority status.

It will be the final two years for a House of 177 members, three members representing each of 59

News notes

Belleville Area College trustees voted last night to take their disagreement with striking teachers to a federal mediator. About half of the 130 full-time faculty members began a work stoppage Monday, and 800 students said yesterday they are considering a boycott, hoping to speed resumption of negotiations. Members of the American Association of University Professors had been working without a contract since the start of the school year.

No health problems have been detected in medical tests of Granite City firemen and ambulance employees who were exposed to PCBs during a July 14 fire at the American Steel Foundries. The tests will be continued periodically. The fire department has asked 50 companies to report the kinds of chemicals kept on their properties and about six have responded so far.

The Federal Highway Administration and Illinois Transportation Department have approved the design of a curve scheduled to be improved next spring on Chain of Rocks Road west of Mitchell. The curve will be rebuilt to provide safe travel at a speed of 35 miles per hour or less. The two opposing directions of driving lanes will be widened and will be separated by a rumble type median. A tenth-acre of right-of-way is being acquired, and the road will remain open to traffic during the construction work.

The Granite City-Hazelwood bus route will be extended Dec. 1 to serve the offices of the McDonnell Douglas Corporation's complex in Hazelwood.

Church of God revival opens

A week long revival will begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 8, at the Church of God, 1336 Fourth St., Madison, according to an announcement by Rev. Dewey Garner, pastor.

Evangelists for the nightly services will be LeRoy Hull and Raymond Scott, both of St. Louis.

A special singing each evening is also planned, the minister noted.

Rev. Garner said the public is invited and those needing transportation are advised to call 931-4471.

Bethalto opposed to being in bus district

The Bethalto Village Board voted Monday to protest Bethalto's inclusion in a proposed county mass transit district. County Board Member Homer Henke asked for the trustees' views on the district, which would include the Wood River Township portion of Bethalto.

Edwin Plegge said he had worked with Bi-State Transit for five to seven years to obtain bus service; a schedule was drawn up on two occasions, but budget cuts caused the bus plans to be dropped and there has been no service, he asserted.

Madden of Decatur with 1,950,950, the Democratic contender with 1,856,090 and Republican Galey Day of Belleville with 1,648,330.

Trailing are Lawrence Gougler (R) of Winnetka with 1,724,600, Robert Lenz (D) of Bloomington with 1,694,180 and Arthur Velasquez (D) of Palos Hills with 1,631,390.

Judicial candidate Welch appeared in trial Democratic Robert Mays of East St. Louis in early returns but is thought to have prevailed 248,282 to 249,387.

Mays ran strongly in his home county, St. Clair, leading 56,083 to 37,872. And Welch won his county, Madison, by only a slight margin of 46,157 to 45,730. But Welch captured a total of 248,282 to 249,387 in the appellate court district.

In Madison County Board competition, Democrats retained their 24-3 advantage over Republicans. Four Democrats won locally without opposition on Tuesday.

In the battle of man vs. machines, man loses again

By GARY SCHNEIDER

A small shudder went through me when I learned the county planned to put a computer for the first time Tuesday night to tabulate the election results. I later learned the small shudder had been way too small.

Great when the Press-Record turned to computers to set type and we reporters had to learn how to use the blasted machines, which we since have learned to love. Until we learned the ins and outs of the computer terminals and got all the bugs out of the system, the computers were blamed for "eating" our stories, deleting portions of stories on their own and other horrifying acts that make us all look like idiots.

Fortunately, we have since "tamed the beasts." So when we hear someone tells me, or she, she (let's not forget the ERA movement), is wielding a computer, I laugh, cough and act very smug. Any humor I found in anyone else's computer woes in the past was thrown back at me Tuesday night, as computers caused me a sleepless night, literally.

Most likely, Bowles crowded about 35 reporters in a small room usually reserved only for radio newsmen on election night, explaining that our normal press room had to be used to tabulate the computer readouts in a kind of pre-cavass canvass. If you listened to any radio newsmen from the courthouse, you doubtless heard more than one voice talking at a time for anything a reporter's mouth uttered was said less than one foot from someone else's microphone.

We waited patiently for the first precinct to report. The polls closed at 7 p.m. We waited patiently at 7:30. We waited at 8. We waited in concern at 8:30. We waited with much patience at 9 p.m. The first precinct still was not available to the press, although it had been posted in the lobby for some time for the public.

Patience dwindled

further when we found that some of the state candidates had already admitted defeat and were giving their concession speeches before we had received the first precinct results in Madison County.

Some radio announcers were having a difficult time convincing their bosses that the only county in the state which still had no results available was Madison County.

Finally, the precinct totals began arriving in the press room and a discouraged and crowded group of news reporters went to work.

However, the precinct tallies slowed quickly, and then stopped. "The computer broke down," they sent us the wrong paper for it," was the answer.

It was back to waiting and, for many, attempting to explain to the bosses why there was less than 10 percent of the votes counted in Madison County three hours after the polls closed.

For those of you who bothered to waste this far into the story, I will be mercifully brief. It was nearly impossible to hold large precinct by precinct charts against the walls and accumulate totals, giving the crowd of people in the lobby, but we did, since the public had many more precincts than we did.

Nearly impossible, but not entirely impossible, so we did it—at least until they turned the lights off at 2 a.m. as a slight hint we should go home.

A check of the press room showed that at 2:30 a.m., a total of 113 precincts, exactly half of the county's polling places, were available, while the lobby was lacking less than 20.

We completed all of the missing Granite City precincts while in the lobby, but weariness and the clock finally caught up on us.

The reason for this long sob story is simple. We were unable to complete the precinct by precinct tabulation of Nameki, Venice and Chouteau townships. We hope you will forgive us, but every effort will be made to get full results from those townships to you in the soonest possible edition.

7,000 cheer President Carter

By GARY SCHNEIDER

There was a festive mood in Granite City Monday. Approximately 7,000 persons jammed the south lawn of Granite City High School to greet the president of the United States, Jimmy Carter.

Thousands of students, from grade five through high school seniors, were allowed out of school for the rare privilege of seeing and hearing the nation's top executive. It was like a holiday for many of the students, and like many holidays, it even included parades.

The first parade was the parade of dignitaries led onto the specially constructed stage, which bore the giant slogan, "Granite City, Illinois welcomes President Jimmy Carter!"

Welcomed to the city by Mayor Paul McGhee, Michael Stappert, Harold Byers and Wydette Young, State Senators Sam Vadelabene and Kenneth Hall and Mayors Mike Sasyk of Madison, Tyron Echols of Venice and Carl Officer of East St. Louis.

County officials and candidates on the stand included County Treasurer Mick Henkeaus, County Auditor Arthur Petic, Fields, Recorder of Deeds Ron Lucas, Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Burch" Portell, Coroner Dallas Burke, State Attorney Nicholas G. Ryson, Sheriff Emil Toffant and County Democratic Chairman Christ Ostoff and his wife, Maxine.

At the second parade, the parade of the motorcycle sound arrived in the motorcade south on Nankin Road and then southwest on Madison Avenue.

Through the dense crowd, the president of the United States, smiling his famous smile and waving.

When the motorcade stopped, President Carter was whisked through the middle of the crowd to the stage, where he was welcomed by Congressman Price.

Thousands of green and white balloons rose from a box in the center of the crowd, some lifting American flags into the air.

Signs supporting the president, and a few against him, were waved and the crowd roared in appreciation that the president would visit Granite City.

Price said, "Mr. President, you are now in Carter land. Almost every community in this county and the surrounding counties are proud that you are here today.

"We want him to know he has the full support of this area and on Tuesday, we will join with most of the east coast in sending a message to the west coast, so they will know who is the president of the United States." Price told the crowd.

President Carter then took the stand, waved the crowd to near silence, and spoke. "I am especially proud to be the first Democratic nominee to come to Granite City since John Fitzgerald Kennedy — and you helped elect him."

Actually, Democratic nominee George McGovern appeared in the gymnasium of Granite City High School Sunday the weekend before the 1972 election.)

"It is a pleasure for me to be in the soccer capital of Illinois," Carter said, evoking loud applause and cheers from the crowd. "You have been the state soccer champions since I became president and I want four more years together," he stated.

"I am standing in the heartland of industrial America. We helped rebuild Germany. We helped rebuild Japan. Now it is time to rebuild the United States of America and that's what we are going to do," the president stated.

He cited the new locks and dam at Alton, now under construction, as one example of how his administration is devoted to rebuilding this area.

Commenting on the plight of the steel industry in this country, Carter said his administration has begun a nation-wide search for ways to help the steelworkers, to help the industry, "and it's working. Your steel mills are involved in a multi-million dollar expansion program."

"There is no new EPA agreement which will help protect the health and jobs of the workers for many years in the future," Carter stated.

Much of the speech was devoted to attracting votes to the Democratic candidates in yesterday's election, including himself.

"There is no way the Republicans can win an election. There's not enough of them. But there is a way we (Democrats) can lose. We can beat ourselves by not using your voice, influence and vote in these closing hours," he said.

He noted the "historical differences" between the Republican and Democratic parties, saying the Democrats have always worked for the good of the common man and worker while the Republicans have opposed every program for the common man, such as the minimum wage, Social Security, Medicare, human rights and the GOP.

"I am continuing to oppose Democratic programs for the Equal Rights Amendment and national health insurance."

The president recalled when he grew up on a farm without electricity and his mother was working as a nurse for pennies an hour. His father was unable to complete his high school education, because he had to work to support the family.

Speaking directly to a group of Reagan supporters in the audience who bore a large Reagan banner and were chanting Reagan slogans, Carter said, "They don't remember those years and they don't know the historical differences between Democrats and Republicans."

He said with pride, "In the last 50 years, I'm the only president who can make this statement: For the last four years, we have been at peace. With your help, we will keep our nation strong and will keep in peace the next four years."

"Peace is not easy. It is brick-by-brick, day by day. There are crises and trouble spots daily. The president of the United States has to make a decision what degree of involvement should be pursued."

"I'm a father and grandfather and I believe the best weapon we can have is 'the love that need never be fired in war and the best soldier is one whose blood has never been shed on the battlefield,'" he said.

President Carter also said he feels nuclear arms limitation is the most important issue facing the White House and the Congress at this time. Careful control of nuclear weapons must be continued. "The best thing we can leave our children is a world at peace."

"We will keep our nation at peace—that's my promise to you," he stated. After his talk, Carter was whisked by Secret Service agents back through the crowd to his limousine and motorcade on Madison Avenue to 20th Street, south to Edwardsville Road, over the McCambridge Avenue viaduct and on Interstate 550-70 to East St. Louis, where he spoke to a crowd estimated at 4,000 persons before leaving for Springfield, Mo. and then on to Detroit.

Charge man in school incident

An East St. Louis man was arrested outside Niedringhaus Grade School at 10 a.m. Tuesday, after he allegedly had wandered around the school building, disrupting classes and alarming personnel.

Ralph L. Martin, 40, whose identity was established only after an intensive investigation, according to police, was booked on state charges of criminal trespass to land, disorderly conduct and attempted theft under $50.

A school secretary said a man came into the building and went into a speech room. When asked by a teacher if she could help him, he allegedly ran to the second floor, where he was asked to leave by a custodian.

The school secretary said the man wanted to talk with the principal and would wait. It was alleged the man went into the principal's office and opened a desk drawer.

At this point, several teachers and other school personnel became alarmed and classes were disrupted.

Martin was taken into custody at the rear of the school playground. The school principal told police a bottle of prescription medicine in his desk drawer had been opened and a pill for a sinus ailment was missing.

SUPERVISION ORDER. Charged with criminal damage to property and petty theft in Edwardsville, June 11, Donald Weis, 52, of 212 S. State St., was sentenced by Circuit Judge A. A. Mateosian to three months' supervision and ordered to make restitution of $823.

BEST COSTUMES. More than 60 employees of the Granite City (Trust) Bank worked in Halloween costumes last week and Jeanette Scannell and Shirley Adams of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce were judges.

IS IT OR ISN'T IT? Collinsville goalie Jim Dalla Riva (center) holds onto the ball for dear life Tuesday at GC South as Warriors Tim Dix

across the goal line. South players said it was a goal, but the referees said no. The refs were right, but South scored twice in the fourth quarter to win 2-0.

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD Thursday, November 6, 1980-23

A THRILLER. Granite South's Tony Segobiano raises his fist victory and hugs teammate John Rushing Tuesday after the Warriors defeated Collinsville 2-0 in the semifinals of the South Sectional Soccer Tournament at Warrior Field. The win avenged an earlier 3-2 loss to the Kahoks in Collinsville and pits South against Quincy Friday for the championship and the right to advance to the State Finals Nov. 14-15 in Palatine. South is four-time defending state champion.

Warriors-Kahoks . . . finally, a new rivalry

GRANITE CITY — There's a new rivalry in town. And for once, thank goodness, it doesn't involve both Granite City High Schools.

For the first time since the North-South split, there's a rivalry that doesn't hinge on the Steelers and the Warriors. Granite City North has Belleville Althoff in football and Granite South has Collinsville in soccer. Collinsville-South. Seems the Kahoks take exception to Granite City's claim as soccer capital of Illinois. When President Jimmy Carter told the crowd Monday at a rally in Granite City that he was proud to be in the soccer capital of Illinois, there was one group in the crowd that didn't cheer — the Collinsville High band.

Tuesday, as President Carter's hopes of a second four years were fading, so were Collinsville's hopes of keeping South from starting a second four years as state champion.

To say David Fernandez is "the franchise" for South isn't exaggerating. He's scored five of South's six post-season goals, including the first Tuesday. Against the Kahoks, he started out at striker, moved to midfield and finished the game as sweeper back. When asked if he'd ever thought of putting the all-everything player in at goal, South coach Gene Baker laughed. "We thought about it if we GRANITE CITY — Granite City South's soccer team settled a debt here Tuesday. The Warriors, four-time defending state champions, rode the crest of fourth quarter goals by David Fernandez and Tim Dix and beat Collinsville — the only Illinois school to beat them this season — 2-0 in the semifinals of the South IHSAA Sectional Tournament. Collinsville had stepped onto the field nicknamed "The Gauntlet" and, just like so many others, came away a loser.

The victory for South (22-1) means that it will face Quincy Friday at 3 p.m. in the sectional championship game and the right to advance to the eight-team State Finals Nov. 14-15 in Palatine. Quincy beat Cahokia 2-0 in the other semifinal game played Tuesday (see related story).

Bedlam. That describes the South field after the horn sounded ending the game. "This feels better than the last one," said South's Robbie Mann, referring to South's 3-2 loss in Collinsville Oct. 20. "I feel great." Mann was the subject of controversy when he transferred from Collinsville High to Granite City South last summer.

But going into the fourth quarter, things weren't as rosy-looking for South. Reason? The wind. South was facing it in the fourth quarter. The gusting wind had and effect on the ball the first three quarters and fans thought South would have to play for overtime. But according to Fernandez, that wasn't the case. "Coach (Gene Baker) told us to go out and play our game," he said. "We weren't playing for an overtime."

Indeed, South attacked Collinsville in the fourth quarter instead of laying back. And it paid off. Taking a throw in from Don Cook, Fernandez shot the ball from a near-impossible angle to the left of Collinsville goalie Jim Dalla Riva. It took a near-eternity for the ball to reach its resting place — the far right-hand corner of the goal. It came with 14:31 remaining in the game.

"I should have had it," lamented a disheartened Dalla Riva. "I should have had both of them (the goals)."

Just about seven minutes later, South struck again. Dix, after digging the ball out of the corner, blasted a dipping shot 30 yards out from Dalla Riva's left, across the field and into the opposite corner of the net. "I kept fading back," said Dalla Riva. "But it hung in the wind."

South coach Gene Baker described Dix's goal: "Geez, he's got a funny looking shot, doesn't he? But he's been doing it all the time in practice. It's a funny shot but it goes in."

"I'm so damned happy," said Fernandez after the game. "I'm so happy, I'm cryin'." This is the most satisfying win I've ever been a part of." That includes the last three state championship games.

The game see-sawed. And the wind had something to do with it. South controlled the first quarter, both territorially and in shots. The Warriors outshot the Kahoks 4-0 in the first quarter. The second quarter, Collinsville had the wind at its back, and most of the action took place in South's end of the field. But the Warriors still had the edge in shots in the period 5-3.

"We played a poor first half," said Baker. "We weren't talking. No communication. But by the end of the third quarter, we started playing our game."

Warriors settle debt

Althoff ousts Mascoutah 24-7

Special to the Press-Record

MASCOUTAH — Mascoutah High's defending state 3A champion Indians got a rough welcome to the world of Class 4A here Wednesday afternoon. Belleville Althoff, Gateway East Conference champion, ripped through Mascoutah like a hot knife through so much butter in the second half and came away with an easy 24-7 victory in the first round of the 4A state football playoffs. The loss for Mascoutah ended a 22-game winning streak.

The victory means that Althoff will face Champaign Central Saturday afternoon in a quarterfinal matchup. Last night, Champaign Central beat Morton 14-12.

But in the first half, the smaller Indians, who were the Mississippi Valley Conference champions, outplayed Althoff. But one mistake gave the Crusaders a 7-0 halftime lead. It came with 6:09 remaining in the half. Mascoutah quarterback tried to hit all-everything running back Julius Grantham with a short swing pass. But Althoff came up to meet Grantham and took him out of the play. So the quarterback simply tried to throw the ball out of bounds — just as he'd been taught. But he didn't throw it quite far enough. Althoff's Dave Maul intercepted the pass and scampered 79 yards for a touchdown. That one play could well have driven the first nail in Mascoutah's coffin. The Indians were never the same after it.

In the second half, it was all Althoff. The Crusaders scored on their second possession of the half and never looked back. Althoff fullback Don Schaefer ran the final 28 yards of the drive when he scored his team's second touchdown of the game. If the handwringing was on the wall after that

Spikers to face Blazers in tourney

COLLINSVILLE — Madison may have done better to stay home Tuesday night. But instead, the Trojans traveled to Collinsville and were beaten by the Kahoks 15-1, 5-4 in prep volleyball action.

The match took only 20 minutes to play. Many fans arriving late missed the whole show.

The match was a final tuneup for Saturday tournament at the Collinsville High Vandallia campus gymnasium. At 10 a.m., Collinsville will face Edwardsville and Granite City South will face the Blazers of Sacred Heart of Springfield. South will meet Collinsville at 1 p.m. and then Edwardsville at 3:30 p.m. in the round robin affair. The team with the best record after three matches will be declared the winner of the tournament Saturday night.

Competition will be tough. Sacred Heart sports the best record of the bunch at 31-2. The Blazers have been wreaking havoc in central Illinois from the start of the season.

Collinsville is now 25-3 and is in high gear since coach Jean Wilmore changed the offense two weeks ago. Senior Ann Price's spiking and freshman Susan Pitot's serving will be enough for any one of the other three teams to handle.

Granite City South, is also riding high, winning nine of its last 10 matches. The Warriors are currently 11-6, mostly on the spiking talent of seniors Susan Jeffries and Chris Boyd. "I would say we're a well-rounded team," South coach Wilma Schulze said. "I have two good setters, and they can all serve and receive. That's what you need."

Earlier this season, South took Collinsville to a three-game match before losing a close one to the Kahoks.

Edwardsville has been on a roller coaster this season. After losing three of their first four games, the Tigers climbed all the way to 10-4. They included capturing first place at the Wood River Tournament two weeks ago. But Edwardsville dropped three matches last week and coach Kay Heiten is hoping the Tigers will recover by this weekend.

But first, they have to meet South tonight and Belleville Althoff tomorrow in Gateway East Conference matches — not an easy way to get back on track. "The real test is in the next three days," Heiten said. "We know there isn't anybody easy (at the Collinsville Tournament). We've had a couple good practices and hope to get things back together again."

Steeler gridders reflect on a winning season

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press Record
GRANITE CITY —
Belleville Althoff 21,
Granite City North 0.
That game spelled out the Steeler football season for 1980.

When the IHSAA was faced with the selection of the at-large berths to the state playoffs, North was left out in the cold because of the number of points they accumulated during the season based on the toughness of their schedule. They only defeated one team that finished the season with a winning record — Roxana, 25-0, every other team they beat finished below 500. That hurt.

Finishing with a very respectable 7-1 record, head coach Tom Wyrostek reflected back to the Althoff loss as the critical contest of the season.

"If I could do it all over again," said Wyrostek, "I wouldn't change a thing, except beat Althoff. It's the only thing we could have done." The Steelers did practically everything they could.

Using a potent ground attack with a backfield that included the likes of Kevin Buchanan, Rich Buer, Daren DePew, Doug Sheppard, quarterback Dan Patterson and, of course, the North offensive line, the Steelers racked up 1984 yards rushing. Even though they didn't pass the ball for an overwhelming number of yards, just 233, North collected 176 points for a 22 point average.

"I wanted to pass the ball a little more," said Patterson. "We could have done the job. I don't know why we didn't."

The pass might have helped the Steelers in their game with the Althoff, because it was that time Buchanan and offensive lineman Mike Long were sitting the bench with injuries.

North finished 7-1, but loss to Althoff critical

"I wish I wouldn't have gotten hurt," said Buchanan. "I know I could have helped against Althoff. It's something you have to think about, but that's all you can do is wonder. You don't know what I could have done."

As it was, North lost, what turned out to be, its only shot at a state playoff chance. The Steelers, nonetheless, went on to crush their final two opponents and hoped they would get asked to the playoffs. "After we beat Edwardsville, I thought for sure we were going to state," said Buchanan.

"It was just a good feeling on the whole team." North was so confident of being chosen, Coach Wyrostek went on to scout Springfield Griffen, who would have been the next opponent. But the news came. "I was very disappointed," said Wyrostek. "We definitely had one of the best teams in the state." It was just the teams the Steelers played during the year.

The ones they beat so badly, but didn't have winning records. Even the 4 shutouts the North defense produced during the campaign meant nothing. A defense that allowed only 45 points on the season. An average of a little over 5 points a game and a number one ranking in the area. "The people we played usually are winners," said Wyrostek.

There was one other possible obstacle for the Steelers. They played only eight games during the year. Most teams play nine. According to Buchanan the open date on the North schedule definitely hurt. "If we could have been 8-1, things would have been extremely different," said Buchanan. "It didn't help that we played Cahokia twice, either."

However, Wyrostek felt the open weekend had no bearing on the situation. "As of right now we have just seven teams on next year's schedule," said Wyrostek.

Even though North's season has ended in rather disappointing fashion, Buchanan and Patterson, both seniors, felt the year was well worth the effort. "We did all we could," said Patterson. "It was a great season, though. I loved it. It was a lot better than the 0-10 team I was on my sophomore year."

DeRuntz getting ready for State Meet

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press Record
GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North football team was denied a bid to the state playoffs. The Steeler soccer squad was ousted from the playoffs. DeRuntz made sure he was going.

DeRuntz is a 6'2", 165 pound senior cross country runner at North. Not what you might call an ideal structure for a long distance runner. However, this lanky figure has advanced to the IHSAA State Class AA Cross Country Finals in Peoria Saturday.

Finishing ninth at the Springfield Southeast Sectional meet with a time of 15:39, DeRuntz earned the right for the trip to Peoria. A journey he thought at the beginning of the season he would take. "I thought I could make it state," said DeRuntz. "A ran well at the beginning of the season and then towards the middle I lost sight of my goal of going to state. Coach Robinson got me going again."

The confidence given from head coach Pete Robinson played a big part in DeRuntz's performances throughout the remainder of the season. One that included winning the Jacksonville meet, the Granite City meet and the Gateway East Conference championship. "I thought he (DeRuntz) had a real good chance of going to state when he got out of the sectionals," said Robinson. "He has looked strong in practice. It's not a surprise to me that he made it."

The trip to the finals is a first for DeRuntz. It's not a surprise for the North cross country program, though. "We went as a team in 1975 and 1976," said Robinson. "Then Mike Baker went as an individual in 1977." So,

cross country

it's been three years since Robinson has had one of his runners make it this far. And, according to DeRuntz, he's ready for it.

"I'm confident, but I'm not making any predictions," said DeRuntz. "This is the first time I've been to state, so I don't really know what to expect. My goal is to place in the top 25."

If DeRuntz runs Saturday, like he has been practicing, he'll have no trouble finishing at that spot. Running 500 miles over the summer, he also included a three mile extra workout in the morning, every morning. "This didn't get me totally to where I am now," said DeRuntz, "but it has gotten me a percentage closer. The maturity factor has had a lot to do with it also."

The high level of competition is not foreign to DeRuntz. His freshman and sophomore years, he ran as far as the sectional meet. How is this year any different? "There are two things that have made the difference with Bruce," said Robinson. "The first is his attitude. He is dedicated to achieve. He thought he could do it. The other is his morning workouts. This is essential to good cross country running."

The biggest thing for DeRuntz right now is only two days away. A race in which he must plan very carefully. "The course is similar," said Robinson. "Then Mike Baker went as an individual in 1977." So, and put myself in the meet. If you can get in the top 25, then you can feel you can do something. I'll be all right if I can keep equal distance between myself and Gary Chappell."

Chappell, from Alton, placed first in the districts and sectional and according to Robinson might just win state, too. "If Bruce runs within :20 seconds of Chappell, he'll be fine," said Robinson. "Chappell ran three seconds slower than the state champ of last year on the same course."

The competition will be tough as DeRuntz must go up against over 200 other runners. "I have been thinking about this race all week," said DeRuntz. "The race is about :30 percent mental and 70 percent physical. I've talked to the coaches and Mike Baker. I think I'm very close to Baker's ability, but not quite. If I can run about a 6:45 mile, I'll place. I'll be running at my peak right now."

Baker placed fourteenth when he made his appearance at the state finals in 1977. Robinson feels he was an elite runner. "Bruce was within 15 seconds of Baker's time at the sectional meet," said Robinson. "He's capable of doing real well. You have to understand. Even if he's in the top 100, it will be a very good run. There was over 7,000 runners that started at the beginning of the year. Now it's down to 200."

Quincy routs Cahokia

GRANITE CITY — Quincy Senior had little trouble getting rid of Cahokia here Tuesday night. The Blue Devils got a goal in each half and breezed to an easy 2-0 victory over Cahokia in the semifinals of the Granite City South Soccer Sectional Tournament.

The victory for Quincy means that the Blue Devils will face host school Granite South at 3 p.m. Friday for the championship and the right to advance to the Finals next week in Palatine. Since the state soccer playoffs began in 1972, no team from southern Illinois other than one from Granite City has advanced to the Finals.

Quincy got its first goal from Scott Melvin (assist to Dave Sandercock) with 4:04 remaining in the first quarter. Its second goal was by Roger Wilson in the third quarter on an unassisted play. He took the ball all the way in, through the Cahokia defense, from about 40 yards out and beat the Cahokia goalie with a shot from about 10 yards away.

Quincy outshots Cahokia 25-6, had the edge in corner kicks 8-3 and was called for 12 fouls to 13 for the Comanches.

Carenza returns to scene of exploits

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Chris Carenza was a shining, fast-moving forward for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team in its undergraduate days early in the seventies.

Early on, he lived in the shadows of his older brother, Big John Carenza, who still holds the all-time scoring record (over four years) for the Cougars of 100 points on 71 goals and 29 assists.

In third place, just 14 points behind Don Ebert's (in three campaigns) 70 points is Carenza with 60 points.

Now, in his first year as head coach at Kansas City, Mo., Avila College, Chris Carenza has his Avalanche Eleven pommeling along at a 13-3 record and fifth in the NAIA national rankings. Included in Great Avila record is a 1-1 deadlock with St. Louis U., a 5-1 winner last week over the Cougars.

Friday night, Carenza will return to the scene of most of his collegiate soccer starting activities, Cougar Field, along with his Avila College eleven for a 7:30 p.m. game with SIUE.

It's a must "win" game for the Cougars if they want to keep alive their faint hopes for a post-season NCAA Division I regional tournament bid.

Bids for the post-season tournament will be made Monday, and a victory in the Cougars' final regular season game, as mentioned, is a "must" if SIUE hopes to land one of the four "wild card" bids.

Basis for the Cougars' hopes for a "wild card" is the strength of its schedule. SIUE has played, if not the toughest major college soccer schedule, at least in the top ten.

Four SIUE seniors will be playing their final collegiate game against Avila if the berth is received. A bid: attackers Tim Gueker and Matt Malloy and defenders Terry Trushel and Joe Howe.

Basketball openings

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Park District has five openings in the Women's Basketball League and three openings for teams in the Northern Division of the Men's League.

The Women's League will play Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The Northern Division will play on Wednesday nights.

The entry fee for all teams is $85. A team may carry a minimum of eight and maximum of 15 players.

Baker does things in a quiet fashion

BLOOMINGTON — Count on Illinois State University cross country runner Mike Baker to do things his way in a quiet fashion. About the loudest noises opponents hear from the junior from Granite City (North) are his footsteps when he's running down the home stretch with them.

With ISU All-American Mike Matteson suffering the ill effects of root canal work during mid-season, Baker has proved to be the most consistent runner for the Redbirds this fall. The letterman has finished third (24 minutes, 18 seconds) against Southern Illinois, sixth (24:06) at the Notre Dame Invitational, seventh (25:10) at the Illinois Intercollegiate and eighth (24:30) at the Central Collegiate meet. "Mike Baker has been our most consistently excellent runner," ISU coach John Coughlan said. "He's always up at the front no matter who we're against. He's beaten some top people. He's right in there where we'd like to see him."

Baker said he doesn't think that he's become ISU's top runner... mainly because Matteson has had "just a couple of races. Basically I just do the best that I can," Baker said. "I just try to stay up front and finish among the top five." Baker has been happy with his season thus far, which has seen him finish as the top ISU runner in two races. "The last mile I need to be running mentally stronger," Baker explained. "At Notre Dame in the last mile I was within a step of third place and kind of faded to eighth." Even though Coughlan thinks Baker was an "excellent runner" last year, he said Baker has improved notably. "He has a definite opportunity to be an All-American," Coughlan said. "Times are not as important as to how a person puts himself into a race and who he's beating. "Mike's dedicated and an easy person to coach," the ISU mentor added. "He works hard and typifies the type of person you like to have on a team." Baker, who has run 10 to 15 miles a day during summer since his high school days, said Coughlan's coaching has been a plus for him. "He gives you a lot of encouragement," Baker explained. "If you follow his technique you'll be able to succeed." Although the Redbirds have finished high in several tournaments, the results for them are not as good as they had expected at the season's start. Baker has been the bright spot for the Redbirds and he's a believer that the best is yet to come for ISU. "Everyone's coming around," Baker said. "We're picking up confidence. Sickness was our main problem, but we're starting to get back strong." The key for the Redbirds to do well in the District (Nov. 15) and possibly National Collegiate Athletic Association Nationals (Nov. 24) is in the fourth, fifth and sixth runners for ISU. "They need to be running in a team pack until the mile mark," Baker said, "and then race with the guys they're capable of racing with. We need to pack up a little bit more with the third man."

MIKE BAKER

Cougar runner isn't typical

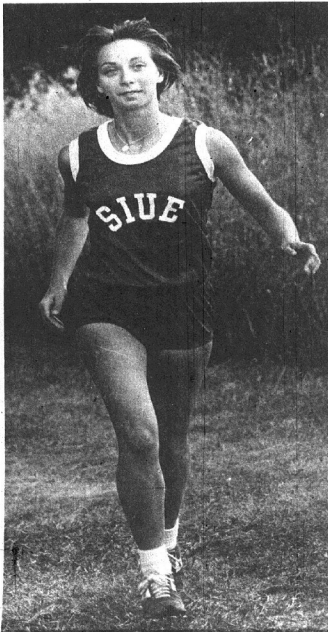

By DEB FRIEDLAND

For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Julie Schutzenhofer is not the typical, intelligent senior looking forward to graduation. She has more than graduation in mind. She just happens to hold the school record in the two-mile and 5,000-meter events in track at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Schutzenhofer was the 5,000-meter Illinois women's state champion last year in Division II. She covered the distance in 20:17, breaking the existing school record. She ran the two-mile in 12:35.5 last year, setting a school record also. "Julie was chosen to the all-state team last year in cross-country and in track," SIUE Coach Lori Stark proudly pointed out.

Schutzenhofer is still running, but now the sport is cross-country, not track, and the length is 5,000 meters. Each course is different. "I like cross-country better because it doesn't get as boring and speed work isn't nearly as important as it is in track," she said.

Schutzenhofer has been running for the last five years. She ran one year of track for the Collinsville High Hawks. Here at SIUE, she has competed in three years of cross-country and one year of track. "Julie's form has been improving, and now her times are improving with it — getting better and better," said Coach Stark.

Scheduled to graduate at the end of winter quarter, Schutzenhofer holds a 4.07 grade average, majoring in physical education. In addition to maintaining a good academic average, she set two goals for herself this year. One was to break 20 minutes in the 5,000-meter run, and the other was to qualify for the nationals in Seattle.

Warriors

Collinsville coach Jim Stranz said that soccer fans in the area haven't heard the lid of Collinsville. "We'll be back," he said. "We got six or seven guys next year coming back. And they'll be without Fernandez."

The outcome of the game wasn't in doubt after Dix's goal. From Nameoki to Collinsville, you could hear the wind whistling out of the Kahoks' collective sails. All that was left for South to do was protect the shutout for goalie Joe LeMaster. "We haven't been scored against in the sectional or sub-sectional," said Baker to reporters. "We take pride in that. We lose very seldom here. The whole idea of 'The Gauntlet.' You know, that movie 'The Gauntlet,' starring Clint Eastwood was on TV the other night. The boys watched it and it was pretty corny. Not exactly an educational experience. But we took it to be a kind of omen."

When asked about why his team had trouble doing well at South, Stranz answered in two words, "The mistique."

Quincy's record is 16-3-2, with two of those losses coming to Collinsville and South. "I've been (touting them) Quincy as a sleeper all season," said Baker. "They're well coached and have some decent kids."

"There's no way we can look past Quincy to the Finals," said Fernandez. "Ain't no way."

Althoff

drive, the next play would bring the ball down on top of Mascoutah. On the kickoff following the Schaefer touchdown, Crusader place kicker Jeff Junker tried an on-side kick — and it worked. The ball bounced off a Mascoutah player's body and was recovered by Crusader David Szweczyk at the Indians' 4 yard line.

Junker was involved in the score that came later in the drive. The Crusader quarter sneaked over the goal line from one yard out, after PAT by Junker, the score was Althoff 21, Mascoutah 0. "I think we just wore them (Mascoutah) down," said Althoff coach Glenn Scott. "We wanted to run right at them in the first half, but our line wasn't doing the job. We told them (the line) at halftime, that it was just about time they started."

It was the first time Althoff and Mascoutah had ever played each other in a football game, even though the two schools are less than 20 miles apart. "I've wanted to play them (Mascoutah) since I was a little kid," said Althoff linebacker Bob

Totsch. "But they never played us."

EAST UP TOO — Althoff wasn't the only Belleville school to win its first round game yesterday. Last night in Belleville's Township Stadium, the Belleville East Lancers, Southwestern Conference champions, beat Galesburg 28-17 in a Class 6A playoff opener.

MT. CARMEL WINS — Mt. Carmel ended Brescia Mater Dei's playoff hopes yesterday with a 17-6 win over the Knights in Class 3A playoff action.

The Golden Aces, North Egypt Conference champions, held Mater Dei's all star running back Mark Hipitas to 48 yards. The Aces, meanwhile, got touchdowns from Bryce Linton and Steve Priest and a 23 yard field goal from Tim Zimmer for its scoring.

PIONEERS UP 19-13 — East St. Louis Assumption got two touchdowns from Tommy Davis and one from Pat Smith as it beat Sesser 19-13 in a Class 2A playoff opener. Assumption is now 9-1, while Sesser's season ended at 6-4.

MHC boxers split bouts

Boxers from the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City split a pair of decisions this week in two separate fights. Sunday in Springfield, Richard Mendoza, Granite City won a unanimous Division bout at the Missouri Athletic Club. The loss was Mendoza's third in 20 fights.

bout. Mendoza upped his record to 7-2.

Last night in St. Louis, Granite Cityan Danny Mendoza lost a split decision to Mickey Valentine of Twelfth and Park Boxing Club in a 156 pound Open Division bout at the Missouri Athletic Club. The loss was Mendoza's third in 20 fights.

Rivalry

went into overtime." But not really. That's because a lanky junior name of Joe LeMaster takes care of business in the Warriors' nets. But early in Tuesday's game, LeMaster faltered. He hesitated coming out for a loose ball in front of the goal. Immediately, Baker sent backup goalie Bryan Willis around behind LeMaster to tell him to calm down — and to just let him know that there was someone else the Warriors could go to if need be. But it wasn't necessary. For later in the game, LeMaster made several key saves to keep the Kahoks off the scoreboard.

Collinsville assistant coach Charles Suarez put in his two-cents' worth: "He's the money man. He's the money man. Fernandez came through when he had to. Both teams were aware of the pressure. I think they (South and Collinsville) were playing conservative. Both teams were aware of everything."

GC man faces four charges

A Granite City man, arrested twice in less than a three-hour period last week, was booked on two charges, each time.

Craig S. Vizer, 18, of 1645 Spruce St., was charged with disorderly conduct and being a minor in possession of alcohol when police were called to his residence at 8:15 a.m., where he allegedly was drinking beer and playing "extremely loud music on a stereo in the rear yard."

Charged with the same alleged offenses at that time was Mark G. Donaldson, 19, of 1603 Maple St.

Vizer was released at 10:14 a.m. on payment of a $70 cash bond. A second call was made to police headquarters about 10:25 a.m. when it was alleged Vizer threatened a family member. He was taken into leaving the house by an officer, it was reported.

At 11 a.m., police responded to a third call from the dwelling, when Vizer allegedly began screaming and again threatened a relative with bodily harm, officers alleged.

While being handcuffed, the man allegedly tried to break away from an officer and continued to make threats from the squad car toward a family member.

Vizer was charged with resisting a police officer and disorderly conduct when arrested the second time.

Weekend vandalism

Acts of vandalism reported to police during the weekend were made by Mrs. Everett Kelly, 3132 Ash Ave., reported someone used a hand saw to cut down a 10-foot evergreen tree on her property.

Ann Brankov, 3906 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported the windshield on her 1970 Dodge was smashed. The front passenger window was shattered on a 1979 Mercury owned by Mary Lucille Valencia, 2415 Benton St.

Tim Streid of Carbondale said a vandal smashed a window on his 1975 pickup truck, parked in the 3900 block of Washburn Avenue.

The tailgate window was shattered on a 1978 station wagon belonging to Robert Kraus, parked in the 2600 block of Madison Avenue.

An exterior mirror was removed and a door was dented and scratched on a 1976 Triumph, owned by Tracy Cress of South Roxana, while the vehicle was parked at McDonald's Restaurant, 1511 Johnson Road.

Solving tax problems, red tape

Taxpayers who meet delays or red tape in solving their federal tax problems can get help from the Internal Revenue Service Problem Resolution Program (PRP) office, the IRS pointed out this week.

Every IRS district has a PRP office to help taxpayers who've already had unsuccessful contacts with the IRS.

People in the PRP office have authority to cut through "red tape" and handle problems promptly. Usually, the taxpayer deals with one person, and is kept informed of the case's progress.

The PRP also tries to prevent problems by discovering flaws in the system. For example, it has helped cut by three-fourths the time it takes to trace lost or stolen refunds.

Problem resolution is not used as a substitute for normal procedures, the IRS said. About 99 percent of all problems can be resolved before they ever get to PRP. Nor can the PRP change the decisions in an audit.

But taxpayers with a persistent tax problem will find the PRP "willing and able to help." They can contact the PRP by calling the IRS, 800-252-2921, and asking for Problem Resolution.

Alleges man, 26, drinks in street

Mark A. Carrico, 26, of 3225 Lincoln Ave., was arrested and charged with consumption of alcohol on a public street and resisting arrest during the weekend outside his home.

Police said they had gone to Carrico's residence a few minutes earlier in response to a complaint that music was being played so loudly it allegedly could be heard a block away.

Upon returning, police alleged Carrico was standing on the street drinking and started walking away when told he was under arrest. It was also alleged that he pushed an officer.

Arrest woman after incident

Troop activities at Farmington, Mo.

Two Cadette Girl Scout Troops from Granite City attended the recent River Bluffs Council-sponsored "S'More Outdoors" weekend at Camp Butterfly, Farmington, Mo. Seventh and eighth graders from Troops 328 and 776 spent Saturday in such activities as horseback riding, rappelling, canoeing, origami, orienteering and lashing. There were also games and folk dance sessions as well as a nature treasure hunt.

Over 200 Cadette Girl Scouts and their leaders from the five-county council area attended this overnight event. In the evening a large campfire was held with each troop presenting a skit and a song. At the end of the campfire ashes from previous Girl Scout campfires around the world were added to the fire. The troops were invited to collect ashes the next morning to spread to their own troop campfires and thus keep the ashes circulating around the world.

Those attending from Troop 776 were Dawn Kamadulski, Carla Schutzenhofer, Alicia Bush, Nanette Bolin, Ronna Reipe, Kathleen Boyer, Chris Stone, Tashia Synner, Dawn McKinney, Dawn Justice, Lisa Biswick and Donna Partney and leaders Toni Kamadulski and Anne Kamadulski.

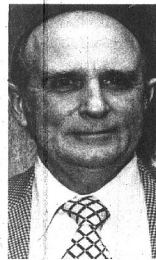

Those attending from Troop 328 were Jennifer Benoit, Cheryl Coulter, Teresa Davis, Karrie Frazar, Regina Herrin, Lisa Jackson, Jill Kinder, Chris Loyet, Rhonda Niederhorn, Colleen Ryan, Pam Smith, Elizabeth Stark, Cheryl Swift, Anne Voyles, Kelly Worstler and Angela Zentgraf. Leaders present from Troop 328 were Diane Swift and Diana Kinder.

State's water-generated electric potential is limited

Hydroelectric generation can be used to provide energy in Illinois, but there are significant limitations on the potential of hydropower, according to the state energy agency.

The examination of five existing dams on three Illinois rivers determined that a combined total of 12 megawatts of electricity could be produced if the dams were refitted with generation equipment, says Frank Beal, director of the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources.

"But the economics of the projects are site specific, and attractive only under certain circumstances — such as when a municipal utility undertakes the work and sells the power to its customers," said Director Beal, whose agency's activities include research and development of new and improved energy sources.

A future detailed study of the five dams will determine their feasibility for hydropower development.

The Institute has been investigating hydropower as part of a systematic look at Illinois' energy options, including solar, wind and biomass energy resources and the conversion of Illinois coal to synthetic fuels.

"Electricity has been generated in the past at several dams on Illinois waterways, but the practice largely has been abandoned," Beal said this week.

"We wanted to consider the practicality of putting the energy source back into the mix of energy resources used in the state."

"As a first step, the Institute assembled an inventory of existing dams and found there are 114 at which an estimated total of 170 megawatts of electricity technically could be generated," he added.

If the full theoretical potential were achieved, the 170 megawatts would pale in comparison to the total generating capacity of the state's electric utilities — 30,000 to 35,000 megawatts.

But because there may be specific circumstances in which hydropower might represent a desirable alternative to other sources of energy, the Institute followed with a second step, conducting a more detailed examination of dams located at:

- Oregon and Sterling-Rock Falls on the Rock River.
- Wilmington and Kankakee on the Kankakee River.
- Elgin on the Fox River.

At each dam, electricity had been generated in the past. In the study, engineers estimated the amount of power that could be produced if repairs and new construction were undertaken. An estimate of the costs also was made.

It was learned that the cost-effectiveness of undertaking the work depended on a variety of considerations: the sources of funding; interest and bond rates; the value of the electricity produced; and the ultimate use of the electricity.

Although the results at each location were different, it generally was found that the projects were most easily justified when local communities could use public funds for renovation and new construction, and could substitute the electricity produced for power that otherwise would have to be purchased commercially.

When there was a city-owned electric utility with its own distribution system, as in the case of Sterling-Rock Falls, the practicality was increased further.

The Institute plans to carry its hydropower work easily one step further, producing a manual to assist potential developers in analyzing the costs and benefits of their projects. It will identify sources of information on funding, regulations and environmental considerations.

"It is apparent that hydropower cannot meet a very large share of Illinois' energy needs," Beal said.

"But it also is clear that hydropower can be produced in limited quantities in comparison to the total generating capacity of the state's electric utilities."

But because there may be specific circumstances in which hydropower might represent a desirable alternative to other sources of energy, the Institute followed with a second step,

ANDREAS MATOSIAN of Granite City. A Democrat, he was elected Tuesday as a judge of the Third Judicial Circuit.

Compensation cost reduced

A credit of 5.5 percent of the workers compensation premium that applies when the $1,000 medical benefits deductible endorsement is utilized has been temporarily approved by Philip R. O'Connor, Illinois insurance director.

The rate reduction was requested by the National Council on Compensation Insurance, which sets rates for workers compensation policies. Most companies writing such coverage in Illinois use the rates determined by NCCL.

The premium reduction will be subject to adjustment to reflect the rate to be determined by him as a result of a hearing opening Nov. 12.

After Governor James R. Thompson signed into law changes in the workers compensation system, O'Connor issued an order instructing all insurers to attend a hearing to determine the extent that insurance rates can be reduced as a result of the new law.

Family returns, burglars leave

When the Harold Matson family returned to their home, 55 Jundane Lane, at 9:40 p.m. Saturday, they may have interrupted a burglary, it was speculated.

A pillowcase had been taken from a bedroom, but all that was missing were cufflinks and a tie-clasp, valued at $100, a gold necklace, $60, and assorted costume jewelry, $50.

Entry was gained through a rear window.

World Community Day will be celebrated by Church Women United on Friday, Nov. 7, in Granite City, with a special service, "The Spirit of the Lord Gives Power, at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 201 Street and Delmar Avenue, at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited and baby sitting will be provided.

Stations of Concern for hunger, health, environment, education, justice, family stability, housing, employment, human rights and peace will feature women of the community.

Church Women United is a national, ecumenical movement of christian women witnessing to their unity and faith in Jesus Christ through worship, study, celebration and action. Women from all christian traditions, including Protestant, Catholic and orthodox, come together to give expression to the ecumenical dimension of their faith and witness.

The theme of this year's service, was inspired by CWU's triennial ecumenical assembly theme, "The Spirit of the Lord Is Upon Me." The assembly was held in June in Los Angeles.

In the midst of inflation, unemployment and international tension, church women in the nearly 2,000 units of CWU throughout the country will pray that the power of the spirit of God will enable them to work effectively for justice and peace in their own communities, the chairman added.

World Community Day was first celebrated in 1943 in the midst of World War II. This year's service, written by members of CWU in Buffalo, N.Y., develops this emphasis on responsible action for justice and peace.

The three parts of the service, "The Power of the Spirit in History, The Power of the Spirit in Our Lives and the Power of the Spirit in Church Women United, give visibility to belief in the possibility of the power of the spirit to continue to affect human history, Mrs. Vogeler noted.

Following the program, a coffee hour will be held in Wesley Hall provided by the women from the host church.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board in a 6-6 tie vote has rejected a plan to seek $50,000 in federal funds to study the feasibility of adding a hydroelectric power plant to the new Alton lock and dam.

Laurel T. Lapinski, Buck and William Magurny said the proposal by a rural Missouri electric cooperative would double the cost of the project.

The Gateway Council board has urged Illinois and Missouri state legislators to form a two-state bridge commission to oversee rehabilitation of the McKinley, King, Eads, MacArthur and Poplar bridges.

At the annual Gateway meeting, the 1981 budget was set at $3,100,000, up $750,000 from 1980, and the group set a nine-cent per capita yearly levy on municipalities in this metropolitan area.

ABC Moving Company, Inc., of St. Louis, an agent for Atlas Van Lines, has opened a new branch office in Granite City.

Entitled ABC Moving & Storage of Illinois, it is located at 2988 Washington Ave. ABC Vice President Charles Wornek will manage the new office, and Ed Wills has been named sales vice-president.

A Madison County jury has found Gerald Miley III, 24 Walterboro, S. C. guilty of stealing five artworks from SUE in June.

Circuit Judge Victor Mosele set sentencing for Nov. 25. The art gallery owner intended as payment in an aborted contract murder plan; Miley's roommate, Ron of Olson Media, Ill. has been found incompetent to stand trial for conspiracy to commit murder.

Over-consumption by Americans was assailed at SUE last week by California activist Tom Hayden, who said it leads to poverty for others in this nation and to starvation in the world. He urged conservation, population control and better use of resources.

Cong. Robert A. Young, St. Louis County Democrat, will seek federal funds to renovate the Eads and King bridges.

Bethlehem Steel plans to undergo some scheduled 8 percent price increases and to delay others. This may cause a partial rollback by other steelmakers or a postponement of their steel price hikes, despite the fact that many of them are suffering financial losses.

The third annual Christmas ideas festival is set for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 22, at the Namekiki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues.

The driver, Joseph B. Jones, 26, of 645 Margaret Ave., Mitchell, was arrested and charged with careless driving. He was further charged with unlawful use of a weapon and illegal transportation of alcohol when it was alleged Jones had a fully loaded .25-caliber automatic pistol in his rear pocket, a locking blade knife in his belt and some 25-caliber ammunition and a partially-empty beer bottle in the vehicle.

Jones was released at 3:25 p.m. Monday on a $5,000 recognizance bond.

The six important questions to ask before listing your house.

- When you're ready to sell, you want to make sure you list with someone who has all the tools to help you best sell your house. The most important thing is this: Don't just list with anybody.
 - To compare, ask these six questions:
 - Do you have a referral network so you can send me potential buyers from all across the country?
 - Do you have a display of photos in your office so people can preview my house?
 - Are all your salespeople professionally trained?
 - Do you advertise extensively in newspapers and on radio?
 - Will you put into writing exactly what you will do for me or else I can cancel the listing?
 - Do you spend over $20,000.00 to advertise on television so effectively that more than 9 out of 10 potential buyers recognize your sign in front of my house?
- There is only one real estate sales organization that can answer yes to all these questions.

President praises new EPA-GC Steel agreement

As mentioned briefly by President Carter here Monday, National Steel Corp. has announced that it has reached agreement with the Environmental Protection Agency on a comprehensive plan for the completion of air and water quality improvement programs covering several of National's steelmaking operations.

Implementation of the plan, which is in addition to National's previous ongoing expenditures of approximately $310 million for environmental improvements from 1970 through 1980, could involve additional capital expenditures of approximately $180 million. These funds would be used to install or upgrade environmental control equipment at the corporation's three steelmaking plants, according to Howard M. Love, president and chief executive officer.

The plan covers environmental improvements to the coke plants, basic oxygen furnace shops, blast furnace cast houses and other facilities at the following plants of the nation's fourth-largest steelmaker: Granite City Steel Division, Ecorse, Mich., near Detroit and the Weirton Steel Division, Weirton, W. Va.

"While this agreement is expensive and comes at a time when we can least afford to implement it, we recognize our responsibility to improve air and water quality where possible," Love said. "The government also has an obligation to live up to its commitment to seek Congressional approval of environmental control time-extensions so that we can balance our environmental expenditures with necessary modernization programs."

"With this in mind, we have signed today's agreement with the Environmental Protection Agency, in the full expectation that the administration and the congress will provide an extension of three years for implementation of the timetable covered by this agreement."

National Steel's chief executive officer added that "The effect of this agreement will be to wash out several million dollars in EPA civil penalties against the corporation for alleged environmental pollution by permitting us to obtain offsetting credits for various environmental control facilities installed beyond those required by law.

"Construction of such credit facilities already is under way at various National plants. They include additional controls on such units as the cast house at Weirton, sinter plant and slab-ripping station at Granite City, and furnace enclosures at both Great Lakes and Granite City."

"Present economic conditions, plus the intention to sign this agreement, have caused us to defer several capital projects which would improve our efficiency, productivity and competitiveness by the end of 1982."

President Love went on to state, "Extension of the deadlines would permit us to reinstate several of these capital programs upon modification of this agreement. We urge the Congress to act on this proposal as soon as possible."

Included in the $310 million National said it will have spent from 1970 through 1980 for environmental control improvements at its various locations are approximately $44 million at Granite City, $107 million at Great Lakes, and $107 million at Weirton. With respect to the current EPA agreement, it said engineering work has begun, and that some equipment orders already have been placed.

A spokesman for Granite City Steel explained that several millions will be spent at Granite City Steel for a variety of environmental projects.

Among them are:—Reconstruction of the "B" coke oven battery, recently dismantled, and equipping it with latest environmental control technology.

—Installation of additional controls at the blast furnaces.

—Building of a new control system for the sinter plant.

—Installation and operation of control systems to capture various fugitive emissions from the two basic oxygen furnace (BOF) vessels and on the new continuous slab caster now under construction.

During the past decade, the Granite City Steel Division has spent approximately $44 million on facilities designed to improve the environment. Millions more have been spent during that same period for operation and maintenance of environmental control equipment. Since 1970, National Steel Corp. will have spent more than $310 million for environmental control improvements at its various steel plants and other locations.

Commenting on the additional capital expected to be spent under the newly signed agreement, Granite City Steel President James V. Stack said:

"Unless we get some relief in the way of a timeable extension from the administration and the congress in meeting the 1982 deadline of the current agreement, I frankly do not see how it will be possible for our corporation to meet its extensive commitments to modernization. Here at Granite City, for instance, we have major modernization projects that will improve our steelmaking production by adding bottom-blowing to our furnaces — and we are installing a major continuous slab-casting machine to help improve our productivity and competitiveness."

"If we are to preserve steel jobs here, it is essential that the administration and congress enact the president's legislative proposal to grant a three-year extension of the 1982 air control deadline for the steel industry," Stack added.

INSURANCE HONOR TO DISTRICT MANAGER

John E. Brooks, district manager in Granite City for the Franklin Life Insurance Co., Springfield, has been named to membership in the $100,000 Plus Club.

Brooks' qualification for the national honor was based on personal sales for the month which provided his clients with more than $100,000 in permanent life insurance protection. Presentation of the award will be made by Franklin President William J. Alley.

Replacement tax yields 24% more

The fourth quarterly payment under the corporate personal property replacement taxes was mailed Oct. 31 to 6,822 local units of government, according to J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

The final tally for the fiscal year of the tax showed that the governments received $52.8 million, or 24 percent more than the $44.5 million received in the last year of the old tax, Johnson said.

The income tax increase replaces the former corporate personal property tax on businesses. The old tax was abolished by the state constitution.

Fourth-quarter payments to local-level districts totaled $113.2 million. Payments for the other three quarters were $439.6 million.

Johnson pointed out that the total distributed for the first year is above the original estimate of $520 million. However, distributions for next year may be less.

He expects that 1981 distributions will be about $510 million. This decline, he said, is due both to the drop in the tax rate hike on corporations and the delayed economic effect of the recession.

Johnson points out, however, that the reduced collections for 1981 will still be substantially higher than the amounts the local governments would have collected under the old corporate personal property tax.

Projections based on the historic growth rate of the former tax show that the corporate personal property tax would have brought in $468 million in 1980, compared to the $52.8 million distributed to these governments in replacement tax money.

Projections for 1981 show that $491 million would have been collected under the old tax, or $19 million less than the expected $510 million to be collected in 1981 under the replacement tax.

Under the new system, taxes are collected by the state revenue department and money is distributed to the local governments.

Beginning in 1981, the distributions will be made eight times a year, rather than the quarterly schedule followed in the first year.

Local governments now have use of the money up to six months earlier than under the old tax, Johnson.

Because most of them are receiving more money and are receiving it at an earlier date, some have been able to pocket savings from interest costs they had in previous years when they had to borrow money to tide them over until their tax money came in. A few districts have been able to invest this money and earn interest on it.

The replacement taxes are

File 3 charges against man, 18

Jeffrey W. Gribble, 18, of 2523 Madison Ave., was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis, careless driving and disobeying a traffic control device at 11 p.m. Monday. The arrest was made after a patrolling officer alleged seeing an auto go through a stop sign on Grand Avenue at 22nd Street and turn into an alley between Madison and Grand avenues.

The officer allegedly chased the auto, stopping the car on the parking lot at Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shop, 2241 Madison Ave.

It was alleged Gribble had in his possession three cigarettes which appeared to be cannabis, two roach-clip holders, a scale, a wooden seat and a hunting knife. He was released to his father's payment of a $35 cash bond.

Mayors to hear chief of Airlift

The next meeting of the (Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties) Southern Illinois Council of Mayors will be held Wednesday, Nov. 26, at Fischer's Restaurant, 200 W. Main St., Belleville. A social hour will begin at 6 p.m., dinner at 7 p.m. and the meeting at 8 p.m.

Mayor Richard Brauer will be host.

General Robert E. Hoyer, commander-in-chief, Military Airlift Command, Staff Air Force Base, will be guest speaker.

Management committee for 5 bridges proposed

At its regular monthly meeting, the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council unanimously approved a resolution calling for the creation of an interstate compact, which would create a single, coordinated management entity to operate all five of the central basin district Mississippi River bridges, including McKinley Bridge in Venice.

The proposed compact calls for the establishment of a Missouri-Illinois-St. Louis Bridge Commission, consisting of 10 members — five from Missouri and five from Illinois. The proposed compact will be presented to both state legislatures next year for authorization to establish the commission.

The proposed compact was developed by the board's Bridge Study Committee as a means for effectively dealing with the problems associated with the older river crossings, in order to alleviate the increasing traffic volume on the Poplar Street Bridge.

Truck Puller
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.—Charlie Latham gave up super stock drag racing in the mid-1960s when he got married. But, a few years ago he developed a passion for another exciting hobby—pulling tractor trailers with a small truck.

Since 1977 he has won the North Carolina title, a pair of national championships and two national titles in the heavy division, several other awards, and was named puller of the year by the National Truck Pullers Association in 1978.

Sponsored by Work Horse Chewing Tobacco, Latham participates in pulls all over the Southeast and at national events in Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Ohio.†
